Mayor Sigmund Builds Support for New Road Paralleling Route One

In the past several months, Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund has been beating the drum among nearby municipalities for the construction of a new road that would lift the burden of traffic off Route 1. The road would be built on a 17-mile stretch of what has come to be known as the "Princeton Corridor" — from I-295 in the south to the Route 130 circle outside of New Brunswick. It would lie mostly between Route 1 and the Amtrak tracks.

The Mayor says the proposed limited-access freeway would not only relieve congestion on Route 1, but would also eliminate the need to widen access roads through existing neighborhoods. She also feels it would prevent potential efforts to widen such area roads as the Princeton Pike, Route 206 and Rosedale Road. These are now heavily burdened by traffic because they are being used as alternates to Route 1.

The State DOT does not appear to be afire with interest in the new roadway, calling it "impractical" and "diversionary." The agency is sticking, says the Mayor, to its previously announced plan to widen Route 1 to six lanes, remove most lights in favor of grade crossings, and widen ancillary roads.

The cost for this is estimated at $750 million, in 1986 dollars. The Mayor and Arch Davis, a Princeton consultant engineer, say the alternate road to Route 1 they are proposing would cost between $300 million and $400 million. "Even if additional lanes were added to Route 1 now, there would be congestion right away," said Mr. Davis, whose study of the feasibility of the new road was funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

Nassau Street Sidewalks Promised by Labor Day

Circle Labor Day on your calendar. That's the day Borough officials hope will bring the completion of a new sidewalk and other improvements on Nassau Street.

The Borough also promises that the present asphalt sidewalk will have its dipped portions filled in at some point in the reasonably near future. (The valley in the asphalt in front of Woolworth's appears to measure at least two inches.)

"We have a call in to the contractor who did the work," said Borough Engineer Carl Peters. "If it is not responded to, Public Works crews will go out and fill in the sinking sections."

The asphalt was installed early last year, when the original sidewalks had to be chopped up in order to plant a new sewer line under Nassau Street. Reconstruction work could not begin until all the property owners on the

Borough Merchants' Group Stands Firm On Fight to Ban More Banks on Nassau

The new Borough merchants' group, Borough Merchants for Princeton, Monday night refused to support a plan proposed by Lou Mercantanti, owner of the Hulit's building, to allow a branch of Cenlar Federal Savings Bank to move into the Hulit's store. All banks would be barred from moving into ground-level retail space by a new Borough ordinance that also closes the door on financial institutions and most other offices.

This ordinance was expected to be approved by Council at its Tuesday, February 23, meeting.

According to Mitchell Forest, president of the new group, the plan called for Mr. Mercantanti to pick up the $600,000 tab for the renovation of the Nassau Street sidewalk if Cenlar were permitted to move into Hulit's. In addition, the building owner's associate, Michael Scarpati, told the group that Mr. Mercantanti would construct a parking garage on Spring Street — which would include 160 parking spaces, housing on top and stores on the ground level — in exchange for a ten-year tax abatement from the Borough.

After ten years, the facility would go on the tax rolls. Profits from the garage would be shared with the Borough.

Mr. Forest said the 40 or so merchants and businessmen attending the meeting at the Chambers Street Firehouse listened to the proposal. Then the executive board voted to reject it.

"The Board voted to stand behind its original decision to ban banks," said Mr. Forest. "I feel strongly that a new organization must state its principles, and our first was the ban on banks."

Mr. Mercantanti's plan was expected to be presented to Council at the Tuesday meeting, prior to the vote on the ordinance. So far, Council members have been firm in their opposition to continuing the proliferation of banks on Nassau Street.

The Council's agenda also calls for a presentation to the

Trenton Architect Is Named to Review Township Affordable Housing Program

Judge Eugene Serpentelli has named Philip Caton, an architect and professional planner with Clark and Caton in Trenton, as the court-appointed master to review the Township's affordable housing program.

According to Committeeman Tom Poole, who made the announcement at Township Committee last Monday, Mr. Caton's selection was endorsed by the two lawyers handling the agreement to settle the White Farm/Mt. Laurel litigation for the Township, Gerald Muller and Ronald Reisner, as well as by Henry Hill, attorney for Calton Homes.

The role of the master is to analyze the Township's entire affordable housing program — the ordinance adopted in November, 1984, and amended several times since, the zoning map showing the sites which are expected to produce low and moderate income housing, and a report presently being prepared by housing consultant Allan Mallach, which describes the program in detail.

The master prepares a report for the court, which the judge will use — along with oral testimony and public comment — in making his determination on whether the Township's program will actually produce 275 units of low and moderate income housing and thus complies with the intent of the Mt. Laurel decisions and the Fair Housing Act.

Mr. Caton has served as master for a number of other townships — Cranbury is the nearest to Princeton. He was the master in Mt. Laurel, Mahwah, Marlboro, Colts Neck, Branchburg and Warren. As an architect and professional planner, he played a role in formulating the Borough lease-purchase affordable housing program.

In explaining his choice of Mr. Caton as master, Mr. Muller said, "He is a very good listener, and he is very familiar with Princeton. He did work on the Borough affordable housing program, and was going to work on the Township's program early on but withdrew because of a conflict."

Mr. Muller says that if Mr. Caton accepts the appointment it might take a month to six weeks for him to review the program and write the report. At the end of that time, perhaps by April, Judge Serpentelli would schedule hearings in Toms River. The hearings would be widely noticed in the newspapers, and property owners near all the affordable housing sites — not just the White Farm — would be notified.

"It makes sense to give everyone who objects a chance to be heard. If the judge grants us the 'certificate of repose' — meaning that he approves the whole package and all the sites — we don't want some other litigation brought by someone in, say, Judge Levy's Superior Court, going on at the same time."

Mr. Muller says that the "elaborate" report that Mr. Mallach is presently preparing to back up the Township position will be available to the public — perhaps in the next week or so. The White Farm settlement agreement approved by Township Committee and the Planning Board has already been sent to Judge Serpentelli, along with the concept plan showing the location of the proposed housing units. A memo outlining the affordable housing plan was also included, but Mr. Mallach's report is expected to be more detailed.

The Township's program has a number of innovations and other municipalities will be watching to see if these are approved as legal and feasible by the judge. One is the 50-50 ratio of low and moderate income houses to market rate housing on the same tract. The Mt. Laurel II decision stipulated a four to one ratio in giving developers the "builder's remedy" to stimulate production of low and moderate income units.

Another aspect of the program which will be scrutinized is the proposed developer fee to help pay for the program. The fee is being contested by developers as unconstitutional.

Registration Under Way For YWCA Spring Classes

Mail-in registration is now in progress for the YWCA's spring session that begins March 14. More than 200 programs are available, including Artisans Guild adult and youth classes, aquatics, cooking, dance, fitness, gardening, gymnastics, health, languages and trips, as well as more than 25 community service offerings for adults, teens and children.

A course called "Feminine Fix-It" offers instruction in minor plumbing and electrical repairs. Other offerings include "Gardening for the Love of It," cosmetic workshops and wardrobe analysis, and spring canoeing, biking, hiking and walking clubs.

The adult department offers many courses in family concerns from pregnancy and post-partum discussion groups to "Caught in the Middle," for the middle-aged woman who must be a parent to her children and her own parents.

New in the area of personal growth is "Growing Through Illness," a course providing chronic sufferers a place to share their coping strategies. There are support groups for adult children of alcoholics, divorced or separated women, for grieving and loss, for exploring women's issues, and a new group for families of the developmentally disabled. The Breast Cancer Resource Center provides a support group and ENCORE, a course that includes discussion, exercise and aquatic rehabilitation.

In addition to English as a second language classes, effective speaking and English for technical communication courses are now available for the intermediate or advanced student.

A full range of aquatics, health and fitness programs is available to adults. Of special note are luncheon health seminars and noon "Quick Fit" classes of aerobics, power workouts, and relaxation, convenient for the lunch hour. Adult aquatics features water aerobics, synchronized swim, and Red Cross training in swimming, rescue and health services such as CPR and first aid. Adult and teen dance includes ballet, jazz and modern dance.

Tribute to Women and Industry (TWIN) is scheduling workshops on entry and re-entry into the workforce, upgrading skills, and coping techniques that assist in the more personal areas of work and relationships.

In the youth department, Carousel Connection, a nursery school for children 20 months to 4 years old, offers a relaxed atmosphere for youngsters to learn and grow in a continuing peer-group setting. "Baby and Me" and "Morning in the Park" are among the pre-school classes that include parent participation. A new class for foreign language-speaking mothers and their pre-schoolers is now forming. Among the choices for grade school children are quilting, stitching, foreign languages, aikido and mime.

Full programs in aquatics, gymnastics, and dance are also available to children of all ages, infants through teens. Gymnastics has a new offering of specialty classes for the advanced beginner, providing additional concentration on single events.

Mail-in registration for the spring session will continue as long as space is available. For more information or a brochure, call or visit the YWCA, Paul Robeson Place, 497-2100.

Public Hearing Is Set On Sewer Replacement

The Sewer Operating Committee will hold a public hearing on the replacement of 4½ miles of the western trunk of the sanitary sewer system. The hearing will be held Thursday, March 3, at 8 in the Valley Road building.

According to Martin Dorward, SOC manager, the 60 property owners who will be affected by the trunkline replacement have all received letters advising them of the construction project and the hearing. The purpose of the hearing is to present the schedule for construction, the scope of the project and the plans for restoring the affected properties. A portion of the meeting will be reserved for answering questions on the part of the public, although individual problems might better be resolved by talking directly to Mr. Dorward at his office in Borough Hall.

The meeting is similar to the public hearing last May for property owners who are to be affected by the replacement of a portion of the eastern sewer trunk along Route 27 and along Harry's Brook. That project was supposed to have started last July but was delayed while the SOC complied with numerous requirements in connection with obtaining a State loan at a lower percent interest than that due on the municipal bonds issued to pay for the project.

According to Mr. Dorward, a contract is in the process of being awarded for the eastern trunk, and construction will begin in April. Two-and-one-half miles of defective trunk line from River Road almost to Harrison Street will be replaced.

No Effect on Sewer Rate. At the public hearing March 3 on the much longer western trunk replacement, Mr. Dorward will advise the public that the replacement will not effect the sewer rate. An attorney will discuss procedures for property owners in regard to the sewer easements already owned by the Sewer Operating Committee and any construction easements that may be needed on a temporary basis.

A representative of Elam and Popoff, the firm managing the project, will describe the trunkline alignment and discuss the restoration of affected properties. The 4½-mile section begins at the intersection of Elm Road and Mountain Avenue, crosses the Elm Court development, comes out at the end of Edgerstone Road, follows Stony Brook to Route 206 and thence through the Battlefield Park and the Institute Woods to end up at Alexander and Basin Streets, near the D&R Canal.

Meanwhile, the SOC is proceeding with further efforts to remove infiltration and inflow from the collection system in addition to replacing defective sewer trunk lines. A contract was let recently to Fred A. Cook Jr. Inc. of Montrose to do grouting to 44,000 lineal feet of pipe in the collection system. According to Mr. Dorward, this work is in addition to earlier grouting and is being done in new areas. The 44,000 lineal feet represent about one-third of the collection system, he says.

The work is being carried out through manhole access to pipes that are found to be structurally sound, Mr. Dorward says. Wherever the contractor finds a pipe that is not structurally sound, it is noted for later replacement.

Board Defers Decision On New University Pool

Because time ran out before concern over a set of steps between the proposed new swimming pool and Jadwin Gymnasium could be resolved, the Planning Board postponed a decision on approving the pool last Thursday.

The University is seeking site plan approval for a 31,600-square-foot building to house an Olympic-size swimming pool, seating for 1,100 spectators, locker facilities and state-of-the-art mechanical equipment. The three-story building is proposed to be located east of Jadwin Gym in what is presently a small staff parking lot.

Although 36 parking spaces will be displaced, the Planning Board seemed less concerned with this fact than with five

Police Investigation of Drinking Nears End

Borough Police Capt. Thomas Michaud said this week that he hopes to conclude his investigation into excessive drinking by Princeton University students during sign-in night this month by the end of the week.

Capt. Michaud reported that he has spoken to more than a dozen students and has interviewed another ten or so at headquarters concerning the drinking spree that sent six students to the Princeton Medical Center for treatment for alcohol poisoning and 39 more to the University infirmary. "We have gathered a significant amount of information," he said.

When asked, he said that there was a "possibility of charges" upon completion of the investigation. "We're looking at a number of possibilities," Capt. Michaud concluded.

This week, State Assembly Speaker Charles Hardwick (R-Union County) said that he will form a special investigation committee to examine what he termed "rampant" drinking at New Jersey colleges and universities. Citing Princeton University and Rutgers, where an 18-year-old student died after attending a fraternity initiation party at which there was excessive drinking, Mr. Hardwick maintained that campus drinking and liquor laws are not being enforced by officials.

"He didn't check with our department," said Capt. Michaud.

The legal drinking age in New Jersey was raised to 21 from 19 on January 1, 1983. Another State law, passed in 1980, prohibits the practice of hazing.

steps that appeared on the plans after they had been reviewed by the Site Plan Advisory Board. The steps lead from grade level in front of the proposed swimming pool to the concrete entrance plaza to Jadwin Gym that also serves as a bridge over a depressed roadway. From the parking lot to the east, which contains 700 spaces, this "bridge" is the major entry point to Jadwin.

Planning Board members were distressed that the steps were not shown on the maps they were given to review and dismayed at the thought of any steps at that location. Township Mayor Kate Litvack called them "an unnecessary impediment," particularly in a crowded situation with large crowds of people trying to get to Jadwin.

To Avoid Bedrock. Jon Hlafter, Princeton University director of physical planning, explained that without the five steps the University would have to go 30 to 36 inches into bedrock to get the nine-foot depth for the pool. Mr. Hlafter also defended the somewhat imposing porch entrance to the pool, a 30-foot wide structure with several columns, through which the public would pass to enter the pool but past which it would walk to Jadwin. He said that the porch is a focal point for those coming to the pool from the north and with the proposed addition to Caldwell Field House, forms a gateway to Jadwin.

He said the intention was to bring to this part of the campus the quality of framed vistas for which other portions of the campus are known. Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund expressed concern that the 45-foot height of the new swimming pool would obstruct views of Jadwin, but Mr. Hlafter countered that the pool, with its porch and the Caldwell Field house addition, would provide "really attractive framing to Jadwin."

But Planning Board members did not see it this way. "You've missed the point," said Borough Councilman Marvin Reed, who went on to extol Jadwin as "the place of the large event," citing big public happenings such as President Shapiro's inauguration and the Governor's Ball. Objecting to the porch as "constricting rather than enhancing," he told Mr. Hlafter that any narrowing is "doing an injustice to Jadwin Gym."

"Walking through the parking lot that exists there now doesn't do justice to or enhance Jadwin Gym," Mr. Hlafter countered.

Storm water detention was raised as an issue by William Cherry, chairman of the Township's Flood Control Committee. Although the Committee had conceptually approved the University's plan to compensate for the storm water runoff from this project in a regional detention basin, Mr. Cherry had many concerns about the adequacy of the basin to control pollutants into Lake Carnegie.

Planning Board Vice Chairman Joseph O'Neill, who was chairing the meeting, suggested that the University and the Flood Control Committee get together to resolve whatever problems may exist before Tuesday, when the board will continue its review of the swimming pool plans.

Funds for Studies. In other business, the board approved supplementary appropriation requests from the master plan subcommittee totalling $48,599. The requests involve sums for additional land use studies and engineering, traffic, and legal services in connection with the revision of the master plan, recent and proposed zoning changes, and addressing the

TRENTON ROUNDUP

A "Modest" Proposal

The State Senate has passed a measure which would force men's magazines in convenience stores to use "modesty covers."

"Sexually explicit material should not be displayed in full view and within full reach of children," said Sen. Paul Contillo, D-Bergen, the bill's sponsor.

The measure, which will now go to the Assembly for consideration, would allow municipalities to adopt ordinances compelling retailers to cover the covers.

Transferring Court Costs

A bill that would shift the cost of the judicial system from the County to the State has been released by an Assembly committee. It would require the State to assume the costs of operating the court system over a five-year period.

Court costs in Mercer County are estimated at more than $7 million per year.

Fighting the Cancer Battle

A bill to raise funds for cancer-detection programs has been unanimously approved by the State Senate. It would allow taxpayers to contribute $2, $5, or $10 to an Early Detection Cancer Fund by checking off a box on their State tax returns.

Also, the Assembly passed a bill that would require a company to eliminate pollution on its property before selling it or halting operations on the site.

Penalizing Polluters

Legislation approved by a State Assembly Committee would bar violators of environmental laws from doing business with the State, receiving tax exemptions, or holding environmental permits.

Another bill would take away a business tax break for companies that repeatedly violate environmental laws.

Study of Hazing and Drinking

Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-Union, announced plans to form a special investigative committee to examine hazing practices and "rampant" drinking at State colleges and universities.

Mr. Hardwick noted that recent incidents of hazing and under-age drinking at Princeton and Rutgers Universities "are already against the law," and said the committee will study why the laws are not being enforced.

Eight years ago, the State passed legislation outlawing the practice of hazing.

High Cost of Lobbying

More than $7.3 million was spent in 1987 by businesses and organizations to lobby State legislators and the Kean administration, according to records filed with the Election Law Enforcement Commission.

Approximately $6 million was spent in lobbying expenses in 1986.

state's S-92 highway proposals in the Township.

In approving the requests, the board specified that any authorization for actual expenditure should have the concurrence of the entire Planning Board. In addition, Mayor Sigmund asked that the traffic studies address themselves to impacts from regional development.

The board also approved the proposed change in the Borough zoning code to prohibit additional offices, banks and other financial uses on the first floor in the Central Business District. There was some discussion of whether or not further definition of "office" should be included, but it was agreed to leave that up to Borough Council.

Lease Is Discussed On Mountain Lakes House

The Friends of Princeton Open Space have formed a separate non-profit corporation to manage the main house and pool house in the Mountain Lakes Reserve.

Details of a proposed lease agreement between the Township, which would lease the house and the pool house at $1 a year to the corporation, were unveiled at Township Committee last Monday. A public hearing is set for Monday, March 14, for the ordinance which authorizes the Township to lease the two dwellings.

According to Township Attorney Edwin R. Schmierer, the lease agreement is the result of many meetings with representatives of the Friends of Open Space and with the Township construction official and the fire code official. Certain aspects of the arrangements have not yet been fully worked out, such as whether a Township police officer will occupy two rooms and bathroom over the existing garage rent-free in exchange for serving as caretaker and patrolling the property, or whether the pool house will be used for this purpose.

The initial term of the lease is 15 years, with a 15-year renewal. The lease is proposed to be retroactive to March 1, with an annual review by the Township on that date to make sure everything is satisfactory to both parties. The Township has the right to evict the corporation if the lease is violated and the violation not corrected.

Purposes of Use. The first and second floors of the main house are proposed to be used as offices and a meeting place for environmental groups such as the Nature Conservancy and the Sierra Club. The pool house may be rented out as a residence.

The two dwellings are exempt from property taxes, because they are owned by the Township. However, as a non-profit organization, Mountain Lakes Holding Corp. is expected to charge rent to meet operating and maintenance costs. Because of state construction and fire codes, no more than 50 persons will be allowed to gather in the main house, except for four occasions during the year when the house and adjoining patio may be rented for outside social events.

Those occasions are limited to 150 persons under the proposed lease agreement, but the Friends of Princeton Open Space have asked whether that could be expanded to 200. These social occasions must be catered, and the kitchen facilities must not be used for cooking. Microwave heating and use of the refrigerator for beverages will be allowed under the code, however.

The holding company is planning to install a small kitchenette in a laundry room for the use of a caretaker to get around the restriction against use of the kitchen for cooking. The Township agrees to fill in the existing swimming pool, so that it will not be a hazard, and to install a gravel parking area for 25 cars next to the main house. These spaces will be used by the subtenants.

Shuttle Parking. Guests coming to the larger social function will be required to park in the Community Park parking lot, and the holding company will be responsible for arranging a shuttle bus. The pool house is presently lacking bathroom and kitchen fixtures and may have problems with its septic system. These deficiencies will have to be corrected before the pool house is habitable, and the Township has agreed to help out as necessary.

In the discussion last Monday, Committeeman Tom Poole suggested including a provision banning amplified music at the social occasions. Mr. Poole said amplified music was contrary to the purpose of the Mountain Lakes Reserve as a place of tranquility. Some members of Committee agreed with him; others thought that the fact that the Township's or-

Coed Is "Restrained" In Darkened Dorm Room

An investigation into an unusual situation in which a 21-year-old Princeton University student was "restrained" in her dormitory by a masked intruder is being continued by Borough detectives.

According to Capt. Thomas Michaud, the student was leaving her room in Lockhart Hall, adjacent to the University Store, at 11:20 Sunday morning and was about to lock her door when a man came up behind her. Placing an object against her neck, he told her to go back into the room. She complied.

Once inside, the man turned the light off and told the victim to sit in a chair facing away from him. Although the room was darkened, the student, Capt. Michaud reported, was able to tell from a glimpse that the man was wearing a brown ski mask. He is believed to be a white male about 5-feet, 8-inches tall.

The two had sat, talking, for about an hour and 20 minutes, when someone knocked on the door. Getting no response, the caller left.

The incident, however, must have frightened the man, Capt. Michaud said, because a few moments later he got up and left. There was no assault inside the room, and the man never threatened the victim, Capt. Michaud said.

"At this point, we are calling it an act of criminal restraint," Detectives, he continued, are still gathering information about the incident and what was said in the room. It was later ascertained that the person who knocked was a friend of the victim.

Police were notified of the incident by University proctors.

On Second Thought ... Driver Admits Evasion

A Trenton driver, trying to avoid a motor vehicle charge last week by letting police think he was his own brother, found himself sinking deeper into a pit of lies. Miguel Angel Acosta, 25, decided truth is the better part of valor after all.

Acosta's charade began early Friday afternoon when he was stopped by Borough police for failure to turn right in a turning lane at Nassau and Witherspoon streets. When the officers asked for his license, Acosta told them he had left it at home.

He was arrested and taken to police headquarters when a computer check of the car's license registration revealed that the Mercer County Sheriff's Department had a warrant for the arrest of the person whose name Acosta had given.

During processing, Acosta signed all police forms with the name of the person he claimed to be, but at this point, said Capt. Thomas Michaud, who gave an account of the incident, he realized he was getting into serious trouble. Acosta confessed that he had given police his brother's name because it was his brother's car he was driving and because he was driving on a permit without the presence of a licensed driver. He had wanted, he said, to avoid a summons.

After police were able to confirm that Miguel Acosta really was who he now claimed to be, they charged him with giving false information to a police officer and issued him motor vehicle summonses for failure to turn in a turning lane and driving on a permit without a licensed driver. He faces a court appearance here next Wednesday.

Design Forum

Eileen B. Seuma, Associate A.S.I.D., Interior Designer, speaks on General Decorating Tips.

One can learn a valuable piece of decorating knowledge by remembering a comment once made by a leading interior designer. He said, "When decorating a room, or a whole house, be careful to avoid those two deadly extremes of monotony on one hand, and chaos on the other".

Actually, to achieve beautiful decorating, you need some sameness ... some unity ... and some matching of things in a room to have a feeling of comfort, order and togetherness.

You also need some variety ... some differences ... and some contrasts to give your decorating a feeling of excitement, vitality and interest.

But, as with many things in life, extremes can be bad. Too much sameness in a room will make it look monotonous and dull. And, too much contrast will make it look chaotic and uncomfortable.

Therefore, strive for the best of both worlds: Have some sameness, but not all. Have some contrasts, but not all. And you can achieve the best balance with the right selections of colors, fabrics, shapes, materials, and, of course, the furniture pieces themselves.

It's good to keep in mind while you furnish to seek harmony without monotony, and variety without chaos. And remember, we're here to help you with ideas and furniture selection.

safe in a Nassau Street store. A sum of $150 was taken in the same time period from a cash box in a rear room.

Capt. Thomas Michaud said this week that police are talking to some people, "but it would be premature to label them as suspects at this point." He declined to reveal the identity of the store.

Township police report the theft last week of an Olympus 35 mm camera valued at $350 and a 105 mm lens valued at $590 from an unlocked office located in a building at 842 State Road. They were stolen during business hours.

A $500 color television set was stolen between 7:50 and 9:20 last Wednesday evening from a home on Tee-Ar Place that was entered without force through a cellar door. Police report that a jewelry box was also disturbed, several drawers rifled and a microwave oven moved, but apparently nothing else was taken.

A trip to Atlantic City proved to be a costly one last week for a bus driver from Hamilton Square.

After a group of University students who had chartered the bus had gotten off at 2:30 a.m., the driver discovered that his blue jacket which had been hanging behind his seat was missing. In the pockets of the jacket, which he valued at $100, were a pair of reading glasses, leather gloves, a pen and pencil set and $160 cash. The total loss amounted to $500.

A California resident told police that someone had removed her wallet from her purse while she was shopping in a Nassau Street store last week. She lost $100 and credit cards, for a total loss of $140.

In a theft that occurred February 9 and which was not reported to police until last week, a Borough resident listed the theft of ski boots, ski gloves and a briefcase from a locked Peugeot which was parked on Wiggins Street. Police said the car was entered without force, and they listed the value of the stolen items at $235.

In another theft from a motor vehicle early last week, an AM/FM stereo cassette player valued at $200 was removed from the dash of a lacked 1978 Plymouth while it was parked overnight on Stockton Street. Police said the car's right rear tail light was also broken.

When a briefcase found on Pine Street was turned over to Borough police last week, they did not know who the owner was until he returned from a trip and claimed it. The victim told police that on February 9th he had discovered the case missing from his unlocked car, parked in a Chestnut Street driveway. He valued the case and its contents at $350. It had been returned intact.

Also fortunate was the Barnegat resident who parked his 1982 pickup truck outside Corwin Hall at 2:15 Sunday morning and left the motor running. When he returned four minutes later, the $1,200 truck had been stolen. At 4:45 the same morning, the truck was recovered by Princeton University security, who found it parked in the rear of the U-Store lot. The thief had removed a stereo unit from the dash before abandoning it, however.

Thursday afternoon, someone entered an unlocked dormitory room in Ithaca Hall on the Westminster Choir College campus, leaving behind two victims. One victim lost a $350 tape recorder and a $20 pair of headphones; the second a cassette recorder valued at $110 and a $15 pair of headphones.

A University student lost $50 last week when someone rifled her backpack, which she had left unattended in a first-floor living room of the Colonial Club. The same day, another coed left her purse on a shelf in a Nassau Street store for a few minutes while she wandered off to browse. Returning ten minutes later, she discovered the purse was gone. The victim placed her loss at $120, including $10 cash.

Still another student left her wallet unattended in a plastic bag on the first floor of the Cottage Club. That oversight cost her $50. A student's $50 grey ski jacket was stolen Saturday night between 10 and 11 from a coat room in the Cloister Inn.

In one of two bicycle thefts reported on campus, a student told police that her 10-speed Schwinn, which she valued at $240, had been stolen overnight from the tower entry of Blair Hall. It was not locked.

On the other hand, a student locked his 10-speed Huffy bike to a rack in front of the Architecture Building last week, but that failed to prevent it from being stolen overnight. The bike is valued at $50.

Paul Robeson Is Remembered in Program at Public Library

spoke of Paul Robeson, who was born 90 years ago in the parsonage of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

"He was a giant, he was a songster, he had patience, he loved his people, and he stood up for his home," said Mrs. Epps, 88. "That's what I call a fine Christian."

She said that none of the Rev. William Robeson's five children was allowed to at- tend high school in Princeton. "Even if your parents paid taxes on their home, your col- or got in the way," she told the audience of 50. Among those listening attentively to a res- pected Princeton matriarch were nine young boys in bright red sweaters — students at the American Boychoir School.

Celebration Continues

The Public Library's Celebration of Black History Month will continue Thurs- day at 7:30 p.m. when adults and children age six and old- er are invited to hear the Witherspoon Voice Speaking Choir. This is a spoken voice choir affiliated with the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church and led by Cecelia Hodges Drewry.

On Sunday at 2 p.m., two films will be shown and re- freshments will be served. The films are, "Paul Robe- son: A Tribute to an Artist," and "The Emperor Jones," starring Paul Robeson. Tickets are available at the library.

According to Robeson biogra- pher Dorothy Butler Gilliam, the separation between blacks and whites in Princeton was al- most as rigid as in the South. The person who moved most freely between the two groups was the black preacher, his community's emissary. For some 20 years, that man was William Robeson, a former slave who fought in the Union Army and was educated at the Presbyterian Church's Lincoln University.

When the Rev. Robeson left the ministry for several years, he and his family moved to a house at the corner of Green and Witherspoon Streets. "I liv- ed on one side of Green Street and Paul on the other," recall- ed Mrs. Epps. It was here in January, 1904, that Paul's mother, who was partially blinded by cataracts, was burn- ed to death in a fire.

She and her 12-year-old son, Ben, were cleaning the house. Maria Robeson lifted the iron stove in the living room so Ben could pull away the carpet be- neath. A hot coal fell from the sliding door, setting fire to her long dress. She could not see the coal, and only felt the blaze when it began scorching her feet and legs. She died that night.

With the older children away at school, young Paul was left to the care of his father. A man well along in years, he none- theless coached his son in dic- tion and saw that his time was filled in with lessons and books.

A Special Feeling. Ms. Gilliam writes, "In a sense, the

He was finally free to travel.

By then, however, the ill- nesses that would plague him the rest of his life had begun. Paul Robeson died in Philadel- phia in November, 1975.

Mrs. Epps, continuing the tradition of the Friendship Club, contributed two books on black culture to the library dur- ing the program: Block tryout at McCarter Theatre, with many of Robeson's boy- hood friends in the audience.

During the library's program to honor Paul Robeson, Mr. Counts recalled that he had met Robeson once or twice, and had also seen him on stage. He described the giant of a man as "imposing, with a voice that was deep and sonorous."

"Paul Robeson loved America," said the retired Lit- tlebrook School librarian. He played a 78 rpm recording, dating back to the thirties, of Robeson singing "Ballad of

'88 Budget Is Discussed By Members of Council

Council met Saturday afternoon to begin discussion of the 1988 Borough municipal budget. No total budget figures are yet available, and the municipal tax rate has not yet been established. This was earlier given as somewhere between 60 and 65 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The 1987 rate was 57 cents.

Highlights of the new budget include a $160,000 appropriation to renovate the Arts Council Building at 102 Witherspoon Street; an additional $100,000 to renovate the lower level offices in Borough Hall; $25,000 for a computerized drafting table for the Engineering Department; and $50,000 to install a computerized recordkeeping system for the Police Department.

Some time back, a private citizen had offered to pay for the police computer. Efforts are now under way to find out if the offer still stands.

Members of Council also discussed a proposal to raise building code fees and the possibility of adding another assistant engineer to help with the management of the Borough's large number of construction projects and street repairs. Also, a new system for street opening permits and inspections was recommended. This would charge fees and bring in revenue.

The Borough budget is supposed to be introduced by February 26. However, it may not be ready, and its introduction could be delayed.

1988 Budget Is Introduced By Township Committee

Township Committee introduced its 1988 municipal budget last Monday. The public hearing will be Monday, March 21.

"We have attempted to be frugal and yet serve the citizens of the Township wisely," commented Mayor Kate Litvack. Singling out the $1.3 million in roadway reconstruction as the major item in this year's capital budget, Mayor Litvack acknowledged that "this winter has been an absolute disaster" as far as the roads are concerned, but said that the Public Works Department had been "diligently" attempting to fill the potholes as they occurred.

The 1988 tax rate for Township property owners is $3.04, up 26 cents or nine percent from last year's $2.78. Almost one-half the $3.04, or $1.45, goes to the Board of Education to support the public schools. This is 15 cents more than last year's school tax.

Another big chunk, $1.05, goes to Mercer County, a six percent increase over last year's 99 cent County rate. The Township's own municipal budget is up five cents to 54 cents, a 10 percent increase. The owner of a Township home assessed at $150,000 will pay $390 more in taxes in 1988 than in 1987.

Budget Highlights. The Township's proposed 1988 municipal budget includes several items that were re-instated in the budgets of certain joint agencies by Borough Council and Township Committee when they met in joint session last Saturday. These include the employment of an additional maintenance person in the Recreation Department; funding of an educational specialist by Corner House; and funding of a second children's librarian as well as additional hours and additional salary adjustments for Public Library staff.

Employment of the children's librarian and the drug and alcohol abuse education specialist will be phased in later in the calendar year because of the Borough's problems in getting its budget below the caps. The Township's budget is $278,000 below the five percent cap, according to Township Administrator James J. Pascale.

In other business, Committee introduced several ordinances which will have public hearings on Monday, March 14. They include an amendment to the affordable housing ordinance which attempts to balance the value of the land required as an affordable housing set-aside (10 percent) on certain tracts with the amount of money contributed by the developer, should the Township decide it prefers money in lieu of the set-aside.

One ordinance raises the fees required in connection with construction permits. Another ordinance sets the sewer rate for 1988 at $3.90 per 100 cubic feet of water used. This represents an increase of 22 cents or six percent over the 1987 rate. Still another permits the Township to go to the five percent cap instead of the 4.5 percent index rate, as allowed by state law.

According to Mr. Pascale, the difference in the budget between using the 4.5 index rate and the five percent cap in expenditures amounts to $27,239. There is no tax implication in using the higher rate, because the $27,000 is not spent but is assigned to surplus, Mr. Pascale said. He uses the budget technique to "preserve our abilities to provide for Township needs in future years, when we may have more problems with the cap."

In other business, Committee introduced an ordinance appropriating $50,000 for further improvements to Turning Basin Park. This is the estimated cost of building a bridge over a cut to be made in the towpath which will let canoes pass from the turning basin into the canal. The state is expected to reimburse the Township for the construction, according to an agreement recently reached with the Department of Parks.

Neighbors Turn Out For Talk on Security

Several dozen persons came to the First Baptist Church Thursday night for the first of three police-town meetings devoted to the subject of home security.

They heard a number of things that they can do to improve the security of their homes from the three speakers, Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale, Police Commissioner Mark Freda, and Det. John Reading. There was also a discussion of the value of setting up a Neighborhood Crime Watch.

The next police-town meeting will take place Tuesday at Borough Hall, to be followed by the final meeting on Monday, March 14, at Hook & Ladder Firehouse, North Harrison Street. Both will begin at 7:30 p.m. and end about 9.

Backhoe Is Damaged On University Campus

A Komatsu backhoe, owned by a Montclair firm, was damaged by vandals last week while it was parked near the Woodrow Wilson School grounds on the University campus.

Police report that the machine's engine hood was opened and the oil filter cap was tampered with. Oil was spilled all over the engine and engine platform. The owner, Marsellis-Warner Corp., is trying to determine, police said, where the oil came from and if there was any major damage to

Work on Hulfish Street Continues This Spring

To the Editor of Town Topics: Anyone who has attempted to drive on Hulfish Street during the past several months has had great difficulty in doing so because of the work in progress on that street. Because of the many inquiries received about that work, we wish to inform our residents of the status of the project.

The original desire of Collins Development Corporation and Princeton Borough was to complete the work on Hulfish during the summer of 1987. However, issues came up relating to the definition and division of responsibilities of the work between Collins and the Borough. Those issues were resolved in an agreement executed on August 31, 1987.

Although construction on Hulfish was to then start immediately, it would have been inappropriate to have both Spring Street and Hulfish Street closed at the same time. When Spring Street was reopened, the construction on Hulfish began.

Construction started on October 22, 1987. Immediately problems were uncovered that were not anticipated by the design engineer because of a lack of "as built" drawings for the many utilities buried in the street, some of which had been put in place many years ago, when "as built" drawings were not required.

The manhole where the Hulfish storm drain intersects with the Witherspoon storm drain had totally deteriorated and required replacement. Among other things, this required coordination with Public Service, as a gas main was involved. It could not be replaced by a traditional manhole, but only by an independently designed concrete structure. This structure was completed, except for the top, in late November, 1987.

By previous agreement between Collins and the Borough all construction was to cease between Thanksgiving and Christmas because of the anticipated extra Christmas shopping traffic. By Thanksgiving, the new manhole without a top was in place at Witherspoon Street; the storm line was in place from Witherspoon Street to Palmer Square East, and the manhole at Palmer Square East was temporarily replaced with a no-design solution.

The manhole at Palmer Square East could not be constructed because Elizabeth-town Water lines were not located in the street where their location had been shown on plans filed with the Borough.

After finding field conditions so different than anticipated, the Borough and the consulting engineer decided to do a very thorough series of tests to try to discover what additional surprises might be unveiled as construction continued in Chambers Street. Test borings were done at various intervals down Hulfish Street so a determination could be made as to the location of the various utilities in the street.

That process has now been completed and all parties have substantially agreed to the design. Construction should recommence during the week of February 22, 1988. It is anticipated that all of the underground work will be complete in eight weeks or by May 1, 1988.

The work will be done in three sections so as to minimize disruptions, and the street will remain open when possible. However, at times small sections will be closed, i.e., Palmer Square East to Palmer Square West, Palmer Square West to John Street, then John Street to Chambers Street.

While the work is being done on those sections, all of the materials needed for the work will be confined to the section where work is progressing, and the other sections of the street will be clear from curb to curb. The contractor will also grade the other sections of the street and put down gravel so that the street will be passable while construction is being done.

Upon completion of the underground work, Collins has no responsibility for executing the street repair work. They will, however, be replacing curbs along the north side of Hulfish Street as they complete the various buildings from Chambers Street to just north of Palmer Square East. Curbs and sidewalks damaged on the south side will also be replaced.

When Collins has completed the underground work, the Borough will strip the paving from the entire street and replace the substructure and base course of asphalt. Sometime during the summer of 1989, when Collins anticipates completing all of the building on Hulfish Street, the Borough will return and install the top asphalt surface, finally completing the entire process.

Citizens Urged to Vote On New School Budget

To the Editor of Town Topics: There has been considerable concerns over the opening of a new school due to the increase in projected school enrollment.

The proposed Township budget proposes a nine percent increase in property taxes. Part of this is school cost. The average Township property is valued at approximately $375,000. The nine percent increase figures to $1,150 additional tax levied this year on real estate property. That is roughly $100 extra a month you will pay in taxes on the average. Consider 22 percent of our population is on fixed or proportioned income.

I have recently been involved in the planning and opening of a new 7-8 middle school in another community. There they were able to hold the tax dollar line to no increase. For the past six or seven years we have been able to keep our budget in line and free ourselves of caps.

The date for voting on the school budget is April 5. For the newcomer in town, we are responsible for the approval of this school budget. You have a 30 day residency requirement in the State of New Jersey. Please check with the town clerk at 924-5749.

For the local residency, prepare your calendar for April 5, 1988. Newcomers, please read the local newspaper and School Board, consider please printing the budget in detail per capita ratio.

Again, April 5, 1988.

Early Seminary History Is Recalled by Writer

To the Editor of Town Topics: Barbara L. Johnson is to be congratulated for her two excellent articles on Princeton Theological Seminary.

I would like to add a little about Ashbel Green. The eighth president of the college, he served from 1812 to 1822. When the seminary was founded in 1812, he was elected president of the Board of Directors, and he served in that capacity until the time of his death in 1848. For two years, while he was president of the college, he taught homiletics (preaching) at the seminary. He was thus the seminary's first visiting professor.

Green did his best for both the college and the seminary, as Thomas Jefferson Wertenbaker has pointed out, in 1817 he spent most of the autumn vacation soliciting funds for the seminary, and during the following summer he renewed the old attempt to secure aid for the college from the New Jersey legislature.

IT'S NEW To Us

Furniture and Gift Shop Fulfillment of a Dream

"It was so exciting to be a part of the Grand Opening. There was a parade and lots of excitement and activity," Maggie Rusciano recalls the September 17 opening of her shop, Country Classics, which coincided with the opening of Forrestal Village. "Our store fits in very well with the philosophy of the Village, into the concept of village life," she adds. "It's not at all claustrophobic. This is not a mall. We're very happy with the Village and with the customers."

Co-owner with Jerrie Lodato, who also owns The Country Petaler in Kingston, Mrs. Rusciano says that Country Classics is an exciting new direction for her. "This is my first venture into retail. I've never had a shop before although I used to help Jerrie in The Country Petaler. It became our dream to have a country furnishings shop."

"I'm very happy here," she continues. "It's very, very rewarding, and it's wonderful to see people happy with your products. Our philosophy is that we want to meet the individual needs of customers and provide individual service. That's important. Also, one of the co-owners is always here. We stress that. And I think customers appreciate it. They look for you and want you to be here."

The country look is very popular right now, and the shop carries a variety of pine furniture, table-top items, placemats and dishes, as well as lamps, light fixtures, rugs, baskets and decorative wall hangings. American-made products are stressed, and many items are made by family-owned companies. There are also a number of handcrafted pieces.

Country Mixes Well. The country theme in decorating offers customers many possibilities, reports Mrs. Rusciano. "One very wonderful thing about country furnishings is that you can decorate an entire house, one room or just a corner of a room. It's the type of furniture that mixes very well with other furniture."

"Also, to find country furniture in this area is very difficult. We're really filling a need. Many people come in and say,

IN THE COUNTRY STYLE: "We think of ourselves as a country furnishings shop. Our emphasis is on good products and good value," explain Maggie Rusciano and Jerrie Lodato, co-owners of Country Classics at Princeton Forrestal Village. The new shop specializes in country furniture, table top items and a variety of gifts.

"Oh, I can't believe you have this. It's exactly what I wanted, and I couldn't find it anywhere."

"We carry three lines of solid pine furniture," she adds. "Simply Southern, Pioneer Pine and Frontier Manor. We have tables, chairs, cupboards, corner cabinets, hutches and armoires. We'll be getting traditional country benches and bedroom pieces such as sleigh beds. And we're already looking forward to summer when we'll carry the rustic outdoor willow furniture, including the rocking love seat for porches, patios and terraces. This willow furniture can also be hard to find."

Mrs. Rusciano notes that lamps, such as the hand-done Shady Lady Lanterns with punctured shades, have been big sellers, as have the punctured tin, brass and copper light fixtures for interior and exterior.

Other popular items include the Louisville stoneware serving pieces, pitchers and bowls which are microwave-, freezer-oven- and dishwasher-proof, a pottery carafe and mug in attractive designs, mirrors of all sizes, including some with pegs for hanging sundry articles, decorated dried wreaths for all occasions, candles, Charles Wysocki Americana greeting cards, stenciled notes, country gift wrap, books with a country theme, potpourri and New Age music tapes.

"Two things people especially like in our store are the New Age music — we have it playing and we sell the tapes — and the potpourri," reports Mrs. Rusciano. "Both really seem to go with the image people have of this store. You can buy the potpourri by the scoop, and we have several kinds. We have a variety of containers, too."

Seasonal Approach. Country Classics emphasizes a seasonal approach with its displays and merchandise, and this is noticeable in the shop's varied selection of baskets. "We're starting to get in Easter baskets now," she says. "We have different sizes, colors and designs. We call one grapevine basket our 'Bunny Basket' because it has ears and is shaped like a rabbit. We like to offer ideas of what people can do with baskets, how they can be used creatively. Rag baskets in pretty colors are also available, and they are really an art form."

With Easter not far away, Mrs. Rusciano has set up a "Bunny Corner" with a variety of decorative rabbits and baskets of all sizes, as well as colorful wooden eggs. Wooden, wood resin and fabric rabbits, including miniatures, are all available, and Mrs. Rusciano notes that hand-decorated ceramic and quail eggs will be coming in soon.

Wall decorations are a big item right now, and the shop carries an assortment of different types of wall designs, including framed paintings, wreaths and specialty country artwork. "We have theorem paintings by Jennie Todd," says Mrs. Rusciano. "This is an old art in which artists paint on crushed velvet. The design is done with stencils."

"We also have country picture frames," she adds. "If someone has country furnishings, and you don't know what to give them, this is a great gift. They start at $13.75."

"Also," she continues, "we will do wall arrangements for people. We offer this as a complimentary service. If someone has a need for wall decorations, we can help out."

Mrs. Rusciano mentions that The Cat's Meow Village has been a source of great customer interest lately. "These little wooden houses are handcrafted and very fun and collectible. They are modeled on real houses in real places and come in several categories. They can be bought separately or in a group, and start at $7.98."

Another popular seller at the shop has been the tavern sign for outdoors. As Mrs. Rusciano points out, "They bring back an old-time feeling. They are decorative signs with a goose, watermelon, geranium and several other motifs. They're nice to hang outside your home and can be a welcoming point for visitors."

Recipe cards, napkins and napkin rings (the last in pewter and wood, including a very real-looking red apple ring), a variety of peg hooks, some brass items, such as switch plates, hooks and key racks, as well as key rings, candle snuffers, letter openers and small country fabric dolls, are all available, as is a fun collection of wooden bananas, apples, pears and watermelon slices.

Wide Price Range. Prices at Country Classics are all across the board. Placemats are on sale for $4.19, carafe and cup are $18.95, mirrors start in the $30s, theorem paintings are $34 and up, a set of four pewter napkin rings is $21.95, and wooden chests are $59 and up.

All floor samples of furniture are marked down 25% through February with 20% off custom orders. A New England cupboard is now $391 and a Welsh country hutch is $556. There are also mini-sales on rugs and wool blankets with 30% to 50% off.

Gift certificates and gift boxes are available, and Mrs. Rusciano wants customers to know that Country Classics is definitely here to stay. "We plan to be here for years to come. We want people to feel comfortable here. We want them to be able to pick up the phone and say, 'Could you look for this?' We're glad to take special orders for people."

"This has been a wonderful experience," she continues. "I really enjoy the customers. I like talking with them, getting into conversations with them. It's really an education every day. There are many days when we are learning many things."

Customers, too, will enjoy this cozy charming shop. The uncluttered feeling of the layout is conducive to extended browsing among the many delightful items. Country Classics is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 7, Thursday and Friday until 9, and Sunday 12 to 6. In April, Monday through Saturday hours will be extended until 9 p.m.

New Way to Grow Plants Offered at Greener House

Not only is there a new look at the Princeton Shopping Center these days, there's also a new way of growing plants. The Greener House, which opened February 11, offers hydroponic horticulture. Plants and trees are grown without soil, watered only occasionally, and are just about mistake-proof for even the most inept gardeners.

As owner Peggy Sealfon points out, "I always suffered from what I call 'Black Thumb Disease.' I had gone to a plant class about hydroponics, and it became an obsession. It's really an addiction. It's so easy. It's a way to have beautiful, lush plants without all the work. It's a magical experience."

A writer, Ms. Sealfon specialized in new technologies, and she became intrigued with the hydroponic concept and what it could mean. "I researched it, interviewed people, and traveled all over to places that have hydroponic installations. I became totally caught up in it."

It was through this interest

FOLIAGE WITH FLAIR: "We specialize in hydroponic plants and trees, a revolutionary soil-free system widely used in Europe," explain Lorraine Dori-Procaccini, Don Starr and Peggy Sealfon of The Greener House. The brand new store in the Princeton Shopping Center also carries a wide selection of fresh cut flowers and arrangements.

that she met The Greener House's co-director, Lorraine Dori-Procaccini, who has been professionally involved with hydroponics for the past eight years.

"Hydroponics has been very popular in Europe for many years, but it has only recently begun to catch on in the United States," notes Ms. Sealfon. "It is actually an ancient concept, dating back to the 14th century. Even before that, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon were hydroponic. But it took a long time to understand just how it works, and the system has gone through a lot of years of refinement."

"Actually," she continues, "one of the biggest showcases for hydroponics is the Epcot Center. This has introduced hydroponics to a lot of people. And, in the future, NASA plans to grow hydroponic vegetables in the space stations."

Three Components. Just what is this special technique that offers us wonderful-looking, healthy plants with a minimum of time and effort? As Mrs. Dori-Procaccini explains, "The hydroponic system has three basic ingredients — small clay pebbles instead of soil, a nutrient which is applied three times a year, and a water level indicator. When the indicator drops to a certain level, it's time to water — usually about once a month. The system has definite advantages. It uses less water. You can grow a lot more in small spaces. It's cleaner, healthier and hypoallergenic. Plants are less susceptible to disease and have a longer lifespan."

The Greener House offers a selection of plants and trees, from the smallest African Violet to a 14-foot ficus tree. Such varieties as peace lily, silver queen, marble queen, arbutus, emerald beauty and cactus, as well as Chinese evergreen, euphorbia, braided ficus, Hawaiian schefflera and palms are all available. Also, in May and June, the shop plans to have a selection of herbs.

Light is crucial to any plant, of course, and The Greener House staff makes a point of querying customers about the lighting exposure at their homes. "This is a big factor," says Mrs. Dori-Procaccini. "We always ask people what kind of light they have at home before we sell a plant. I will not sell just to sell. I want the customer to be happy with the purchase, and we have plants suitable for all different types of light — low, medium and bright."

The shop also specializes in a variety of containers. Each plant is grown in a fiberglass culture pot, but beyond that all kinds of containers, including baskets in many colors and styles, are available. "We spend a lot of time finding containers," notes Ms. Sealfon. "We have everything from ceramics in all varieties — including fine to rugged, baskets, chrome, glass, brass, copper and fiberglass. This is not just a plant you're buying, but a piece of sculpture. It's a total design element."

Plantscaping. The Greener House also offers interior plantscaping for both residences and offices. "We'll help select plants that are appropriate to the decor and lighting, help with installation, and if customers wish, also provide regular maintenance. We are very busy with this and have lined up several interior scapes. We go all over the State, and have done large corporations as well as a health spa."

Fresh cut flowers are also available at the shop, which is a full-service florist. "We have the whole range of cut flowers from Hawaiian exotics to daisies," says Mrs. Dori-Procaccini. "We have tulips, basic carnations, and freesia, as well as arthurium and bird of paradise."

The shop's self-service area, enabling customers to create their own floral bouquets, has been a big hit. As Ms. Sealfon explains, "You can have fun putting together your own bouquet. This is a New York concept and also very European. People enjoy choosing their flowers in this way."

"We will also help, of course," she continues, "and Don Starr, our award-winning designer, is on hand to make his wonderful arrangements. He brings 25 years of experience to our shop, is on the board of FTD, and his creations, from exotic to romantic to traditional, have graced many occasions, including President Reagan's inauguration and ball. Don is available for consultations for weddings and special occasions of all sorts."

Prices for the hydroponic plants cover a wide range, beginning at $5. An attractive peace lily in a white pot is $13. Ms. Sealfon notes that "The average plant in a pot is $22, and remember you're getting a decorative pot. Containers can be bought separately, with baskets $5 and up."

There is a $3 delivery charge, and Princeton, Kingston, Rocky Hill, Pennington, Hopewell and Lawrenceville are all part of the delivery area.

Ms. Sealfon and Mrs. Dori-Procaccini point out that hydroponic plants with their minimum care requirements are especially nice gifts for people with second homes and for those in hospitals and nursing homes.

The enthusiasm with which the public has greeted the new shop has been wonderful, report the owners. "We've really taken off with a bang," says Ms. Sealfon, "and we're delighted. After all, it's so exciting to be surrounded by all the things you love. Of course, it's a lot of work, but it's work I enjoy. I don't mind the long hours. To me it's like a fantasy come true. I'm a happy person!"

A Visual Delight. Adds Mrs. Dori-Procaccini, "I really love it all! I'm so thrilled when the plants come in. I've been doing this for eight years, but I'm still so excited. I love meeting our customers and seeing them happy with the product. We can offer them something a little different here."

Ms. Sealfon is especially proud of the look of the shop, which is indeed strikingly attractive. Light, with a feeling of space, it has a contemporary ambience, yet one that is very congenial. The imaginative display of plants, flowers and containers is a visual delight.

What we've tried to do is create a place that is an experience," says Ms. Sealfon. "It's not just a flower shop or a plant shop, but a total experience. It's a beautiful environment in which to display our plants and flowers, and our architect Gerry Ilowite did a phenomenal job."

Customers can also look forward to upcoming events, she notes. "A Grand Grand Opening will be held Saturday, March 12, from noon to 6, with a surprise event at 1 p.m., and The Greener House is open Monday through Friday 10 to 7, Thursday until 8, Saturday 10 to 6 and Sunday 11 to 3."

the State Department, has agreed to speak in Mr. Shultz's place.
The conference will bring together scholars of diplomatic history, former diplomats and journalists to evaluate Dulles' contributions in the shaping of U.S. policy and to explore parallels in international policy between the 1950s and the 1980s. One focus of the conference was to have been on the key issues faced by both Dulles and Mr. Shultz as two secretaries of state in the two eight-year Republican administrations in the second half of the 20th century.

YWCA Auction, Dinner To Be Held at Marriott
The YWCA Services and Surprises Auction and Dinner will be held Saturday, March 5, at 6 in the Princeton Marriott Ballroom, Forrestal Village. The sixth annual event, benefiting the YWCA's 25 community service programs, features a live and silent auction as well as a raffle for a trip for two to Bermuda.
Featuring an around-the-world theme, dining will begin with hors d'oeuvre from Italy, France and the Orient. The menu includes Coquilles St. Jacques, an entree of beef tenderloin, and a finale of Mousse de Neige, continuing the international theme.

Tony Mento, the Jersey Auctioneer, will be the master of ceremonies. Sold to the highest bidder will be a varied list of surprises and services: vacation homes, including getaways in Florida and Hilton Head; weekend apartments in New York City and in the historical section of Philadelphia; a hot air balloon ride; special dinners provided at your home or the chef's, including a lobster dinner for eight; a cocktail party with entertainment by the "Princeton Politicians" (Kate Litvack, Barbara Sigmund, and Carol Wojciechowicz, with Phyllis Supple at the piano); landscaping and consultations; party desserts by well-known area cooks; and many other items.
In conjunction with the event, a week for two at Marriott's Castle Harbor Resort, Bermuda, with round-trip air transportation provided by Revere Travel of Palmer Square, will be raffled off. Tickets for the raffle are $2 each and may be purchased in advance at the YWCA and other locations in the Princeton area as well as at the event.

Among the 25 community service programs that benefit from the fundraiser are Saturday Spotlight, a program that teaches coping and socialization skills to special-needs teens and young adults; the Breast Cancer Resource Center; and Pearl Bates Scholarships that provide funds to women and children for YWCA services such as the After School Program and summer camps.
Tickets for the event are $60 a person. For reservations and more information, call Charlotte Weathersby, 466-9224.

Nominations Are Invited For Award to Volunteer
The Princeton Area Council of Community Services seeks nominations for the Robert E. Clancy Award for outstanding service as a volunteer.
The award was begun eight years ago by Mr. Clancy and is open to those who live or work in the area served by the United Way. As distinct from the Citation for Distinguished Volunteer Leadership awarded at the Council's annual meeting in the fall, the Clancy award honors the outstanding contributors who provide direct "hands-on" service in the community.

In addition to the adult award there will be a youth award given to a young person who has made an outstanding contribution to volunteer work in the greater Princeton area. A five-member panel made up of community leaders will judge the nomination according to criteria established by the Council of Community Service. These criteria include such things as sustained commitment to direct service volunteerism; the quality and length of service; the estimated number of hours contributed, and the difficulty of the services rendered.
The deadline for nominations is March 18. Forms are available from the Council of Community Services at 924-5865.

Annual Craft Show Due At The Jewish Center
A craft show and sale will be held on Sunday, March 13, at The Jewish Center. Entitled "Elegance '88," this will be the center's third annual invitational craft show and sale and will feature the crafts of approximately 30 juried artisans. Work in ceramics, fabric/fiber, glass, jewelry, metal and wood will be on exhibit.
Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is $3; $2 for students and seniors.

A patron's preview and reception will be held on Saturday, March 12, at 8 p.m. For $18, a patron will be able to view the show and purchase items in advance of the general public. Desserts and musical entertainment will be provided. Patrons are also entitled to free admission to the show on Sunday.
"Elegance '88" is sponsored by both the Women's Division and Men's Club of The Jewish Center.

Women's Coffeehouse Offers Book Discussion

THE NEW LIMITED-ACCESS FREEWAY, proposed by Borough Mayor Sigmund, is shown by a heavy broken line. Present Route 1, which it parallels for 17 miles, is indicated by a solid line. The northeast corridor railroad tracks are shown by a crossed line. The broken line intersecting "Route 1" and "Alt. 1", labeled "Pennsylvania Blvd.", is the proposed route to a new New Jersey Turnpike entrance envisioned by the Mayor.

New Road
 Mr. Davis said that the existence of a 17-mile open corridor was "kind of a miracle." "This can't stay. Some land is developable, and if the corridor is blockaded, not much can be done." Mayor Sigmund pointed to the limited access Route 1 freeway that runs into Trenton, and said that the proposed new road "would do for the rest of Route 1 what that freeway has done in the Trenton area."

She noted that the new road could be built without the disruption that would plague construction on Route 1. It is also possible, she said, that the proposed freeway could connect to a new entrance on the New Jersey Turnpike, between Exit 9 and 8A. "The Turnpike could then possibly be another funding source," she added.

Mayor Sigmund first broached her idea for an alternate to Route 1 during her New Year's Day, 1985, address in Borough Hall. It piqued the interest both of Mr. Davis, who is now a member of the Borough's Traffic and Transportation Committee, and the Johnson Foundation, which granted $25,000 to him to test her premise.

The study done by Mr. Davis found that the mayor's original idea — to build the road along the railroad right of way — would not work. However, the 17-mile corridor he identified close by was called by the Mayor "a windshield of opportunity to build a limited access freeway."

Since August, Mayor Sigmund and Mr. Davis have visited Middlesex and Mercer County officials, as well as most of the mayors in the towns through which the new road would pass. These are Lawrence, West Windsor, Plainsboro, South Brunswick, and North Brunswick.

The reactions from officials, she says, have ranged from "I'll keep an open mind" to enthusiasm.

"I for one," says Mayor Sigmund, "am under no illusions that there won't be disagreement aplenty." She recalled that an elderly man in Trenton said to her, "Barbara, it makes too much common sense. Don't count on it."

At this point the Mayor is attempting to put together a coalition of government officials, business representatives, and neighborhood groups in the area. "If we can do this, we will go forward," she said, adding that some mayors have agreed to help with further funding.

governing body by Mr. Forest and other members of Borough Merchants for Princeton. The group will ask for two-hour parking, new procedures for meter-feeding identification, the possibility of permit parking for employees on Borough streets, a parking garage on Spring Street, and the coordination of sidewalk repair and lamp replacement so that all of Nassau Street would have new lights.

affected portion of Nassau Street had connected their laterals to the new sewer line. This work is now done.

Labor Day will bring not only a new sidewalk on the stretch of Nassau Street from Palmer Square West to Vandeventer Avenue. It will also bring new curbing, planters, trash receptacles, street lighting, seating areas, handicapped ramps — and perhaps, says Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund, a new kiosk to replace the one at Witherspoon Street.

"The new Nassau Street will be considerably different than it is today," said the Mayor at a press conference called to announce that the project will soon go out for bid. She quickly pointed out, however, that its new look will be "dressed up," not "gussied up."

The bidding process for design of the streetscape is expected to begin early next week. On Tuesday, March 29, at 7:30 in Borough Hall, the Public Works Committee will hold a public meeting at which the top three candidates will present their concepts. Each presentation will take 45 minutes.

The three top contenders will be selected by the Borough with the help of several organizations, including the Arts Council, Planning Board, and Historic Preservation Committee.

The budget for the renovation of the Nassau Street sidewalks is $600,000.

OBITUARIES

Harland F. "Pink" Baker, 89, died February 18 at the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Concord, N.H., Mr. Baker attended Phillips Exeter Academy and Princeton University, where he was a member of the legendary 1922 football "Team of Destiny" in his senior year. Following three teams that had come close to, but had not succeeded in, winning the "Big Three" (Harvard, Yale and Princeton) Championship, and with only six experienced players, the 1922 team confounded all predictions by going the entire season undefeated and untied. The team was subsequently invited to play in the Rose Bowl.

The experience instilled in Mr. Baker a lifelong enthusiasm for Princeton athletics. Over the years he established a particular rapport with freshmen football players and with their parents. In his business career, Mr. Baker served as president of the Security Equipment Corporation, which supplied parts and accessories for the manufacture of new automobiles. During World War I, he was a second lieutenant in the infantry, assigned to Princeton to train troops. As a major in the U.S. Air Force during World War II, he served in the 82d Fighter Group in France and Italy.

Former Yale Chaplain To Speak at Seminary

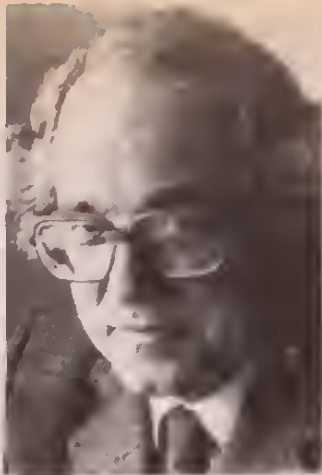

William Sloane Coffin Jr., the newly elected president of SANE/FREEZE, who was senior minister of the Riverside Church in New York for the past 10 years, will deliver the Alexander Thompson Lecture at Princeton Theological Seminary on Monday, March 7, at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Mackay Center on the Seminary campus. The topic of his lecture will be "The Art of Biblical Preaching."

For the past 25 years, Mr. Coffin has been a strong presence in the civil rights and peace movements. While at Riverside, he founded its disarmament program, and he has lectured throughout the United States on the imperative of reversing the arms race. In 1979 he held Christmas services in Iran for the U.S. embassy hostages there. He has traveled throughout Central and South America and in the Middle East to promote international peace and human rights. In 1980 he received the SANE Peace Award.

Mr. Coffin graduated from Yale with the B.A. in 1949 and received his B.D. from Yale Divinity School in 1956. He has served as chaplain of Phillips Academy and Williams College, and in 1957 became chaplain at Yale, a post he held for 18 years. During those years, he also served as an advisor to the Peace Corps and as co-founder of Clergy and Laity Concerned for Vietnam.

Mr. Coffin's lecture will coincide with a day-long conference at the Seminary called "Faithful Resistance and the Limits of Civil Disobedience." The conference will be led by Judith Dwyer, assistant professor of moral theology at Weston School of Theology; Pastor John Fife, leader of the sanctuary movement, who was tried by the United States government in Tucson, Ariz.; and Freda A. Gardner, professor of Christian education at Princeton Seminary.

For more information, call the Office of Public Information, 921-8300. Registration for the conference is $25. The lecture is open to the public free of charge.

World Day of Prayer To Be Held March 4

World Day of Prayer will be observed by the Princeton Chapter of Church Women United on Friday, March 4, at the First Baptist Church at noon.

"Open Doors" will be the theme of this 101st World Day of Prayer, a theme written by Catholic and Protestant women of Brazil. The speaker will be Eileen Moffett, teacher, Christian educator, author and leader in the mission field in South Korea. Serving as chairperson of this observance will be Alice Hoon. Also participating in the service will be Evelyn Ellerbe, Pauline Beidler, Martha Barbour, Margaret Beyers, Helen Langhan, Geraldine Bowers, and Barbara Buermyer.

Members of the community are invited to bring a brown bag lunch and join in this celebration.

Bulletin Notes

The talk is sponsored by the Aquinas Institute.

Trinity Church is holding a five-session series on the Gospel of Mark on Tuesday evenings from 8 to 9:30. The series will continue through March 22. It is led by David Adams, a former assistant professor of New Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary and a candidate for ordination in the Episcopal Church.

The Princeton Ethical Humanist Fellowship will hold a platform meeting Sunday in the main lounge of the Mackay Campus Center, Princeton Theological Seminary. Richard Reichart, Fellowship vice president, will speak on "Winning Isn't Anything." All are welcome. Admission is free.

Princeton's Consumer Bureau, Now 20 Years Old Registers, and Keeps an Eye On, Area Businesses

Some consumer complaints are amusing — such as the time a man became angry with a tailor about the quality of some alterations, but refused to sit down so the tailor could check the fit and redo the work. Others are a bit sad — such as the time a photographer lost a newlywed couple's wedding pictures.

But whatever the woe, it will receive a fair hearing from the Consumer Bureau panel of judges, which meets every month to discuss and act on those complaints that could not be mediated by Josephine Webb, the Bureau's executive director.

The Consumer Bureau celebrates its 20th anniversary this month. Begun by Princeton resident Joe Boyd, it was inspired by a group he discovered on a visit to Oxford, England.

Mr. Boyd traveled there in 1966, at the height of the consumer movement. "I wanted to see what the tweedy English ladies were doing about protecting young faculty members from grasping Oxford merchants," he recalls.

What he came upon was the Oxford Consumer Group, which, in typical British fashion, took an understated approach to consumerism. Rather than blacklisting businesses that behaved badly, it "whitelisted" businesses that behaved well.

Mr. Boyd, who had started the Princeton Community Phone Book five years earlier (he sold it in 1985), had previously owned his own small advertising business. He had been involved in helping to start the first bank credit card plan, in 1948.

Patterned After Oxford. He was intrigued by the Oxford group, and decided to use it as a model for the Consumer Bureau, which he established in Princeton two years later. But he made one, very American change. The Oxonians forbade merchants to advertise that they were on the whitelist. "This was terribly British," says Mr. Boyd. "Our version is not to ban advertising, but to charge for it."

Indeed, the Consumer Bureau two-page advertisement has run in TOWN TOPICS every week, but two, for the past 20 years. And the two missing ads were left out by the paper.

Any business within 25 miles of Princeton can become a member of the Consumer Bureau — free of charge — providing it has no unresolved consumer complaints against it.

In the event of such a complaint, a registered firm will be removed from the Bureau for as long as seven years. There are currently some 7,500 businesses on the Consumer Bureau roster. "This register listing is free," points out Mr. Boyd, "but only businesses on the register may participate in its advertising."

He adds, however, that consumers should not assume that something is wrong with a firm that is not registered. "The important thing is for the consumer to use firms that have an affirmative record," he says.

Mediation First. Currently, some 800 to 1000 complaints are called in to the Consumer Bureau each year. They first go to Mrs. Webb, who sends out a form to both the consumer and the firm. This asks for the details of the dispute, and requests the firm to get in touch directly with the consumer.

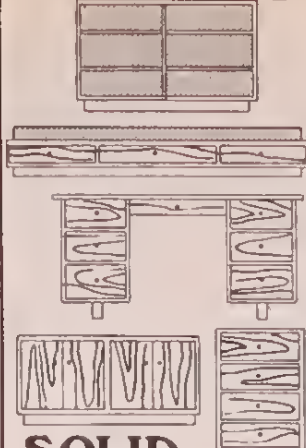

The problem is often compounded by the fact that the consumer had not spoken with the person in charge, and the form sent by Mrs. Webb helps clarify and resolve this. Most problems are handled at this point, and never get to the Consumer Bureau panel.

If the complaint remains unresolved, Mrs. Webb calls both parties and attempts to mediate. If there is a question about work done on a house, she and her husband, Richard, will go out to inspect the work. If the problem is in regard to a price that had not been agreed upon in advance, Mrs. Webb will make a survey of similar businesses to get an appropriate range.

Mrs. Webb became executive director of the Consumer Bureau in 1972, after she and her husband, a former member of the staff of the British Informa-

"Something's Afoot" at Broadmead Theatre Features Frenzied Pace, Energized Ensemble

Six highly eccentric and suspicious-looking guests have arrived at the isolated country estate of Lord Dudley Rancour on an island in the Lake District of England for "a marvelous weekend," when suddenly a fiendish murder takes place. A severe electrical storm is rapidly approaching, the water has risen to a level where the only bridge to the mainland has become impassable, and the company is forced to confront the fact that "something's afoot" and the killer is undoubtedly among them!

So why is this bizarre crew all raucously and spiritedly singing and dancing around the well-appointed sitting room of Lord Rancour's retreat? No, this is not a spine-tingling setting for Agatha Christie, but rather the world of musical comedy spoof and Princeton Community Players' Something's Afoot, which will be cavorting and slapsticking its way through one more weekend at the Triangle Broadmead Theatre.

Cheryl Doyle as Miss Tweed, the amateur detective who "owes it all to Agatha Christie and Arthur Conan Doyle," leads the energetic company in pursuit of the mysterious criminal. Featured in four different numbers, Ms. Doyle gets a thorough workout, showing talent and poise throughout.

Gretchen Felix, the ingenue, and Jay Doolan, as the bright-eyed college student-oarsman who has just dropped in, form an appealing and convincing romantic duo. Both possess strong, well-trained voices and use them to advantage in several numbers: together in "I Don't Know Why I Trust You (But I Do)" and "New Day," ly be noted that Herbert McAneny as Lord Dudley Rancour is up to his usual high standard of performance and, moreover, is able to play this role while sitting in the audience throughout the two-act play.

The music is spirited and strong, as Kimberlyn Montford, music director and piano player, ably leads a highly effective orchestra of four.

Under the direction of Ted Hoagland, with choreography by Winona Burton, this production is far from flawless. Several British accents are problematic, cues are not always picked up promptly, timing suffers one or two noticeable lapses, the book itself has some weak humor that no actor could coax a laugh from, and the acting is uneven. The extremely buoyant and energized ensemble, however, assisted by the nature of the show and the frenzied pace of the whole adventure, smooths over the rough edges and delivers a laugh-packed, entertaining evening.

News of the THEATRES

and Ms. Felix with other members of the ensemble in "Marvelous Weekend" and "Carry On" and in a humorous solo rendition — pursued by a treacherous falling chandelier — of "You Fell Out of the Sky."

Joe Doyle, as Flint the unkempt caretaker, provides a major injection of comedy in this show, as well as a certain amount of acrobatics and a large dose of lechery. This lascivious bloke specializes in fast hands, pratfalls, all-around agility and the ability to get himself into a number of extraordinary physical positions during the course of the play. His "Little Dinghy" duet with Betty Coleman as Lettie offers the saucy maid an escape plan complete with ulterior motives and furnishes a comic highlight of the play.

David Swartz as Nigel Rancour, the dissolute nephew and greedy heir, spiffily attired in red evening jacket, maintains a commanding aristocratic veneer, and manages some impressively controlled and effective slapstick humor. He opens the second act with a deft lampoon of both romantic songs and murder mystery plots as he ransacks the sitting room looking for his uncle's will, all to the romantic melody of "I Know What I'm Looking For." Especially passionate is his dance interlude with the coat rack!

Rufus Gibson as Clive the butler presents a distinguished and imposing presence along with some first-rate dance steps. Lady Grace (Laurel Chamberland), featured in her steamy reminiscence of "The Man With the Ginger Moustache," Colonel Gillweather (Doug Gildenberg) and Dr. Grayburn (Chris Franz) complete the guest list.

Casting Is Announced For New McCarter Play

McCarter Theatre has announced the cast for the world premiere of Don Nigro's The Dark Sonnets of the Lady.

Robert Lanchester, associate artistic director at McCarter, will direct the production. The script was discovered and developed through the Playwrights-at-McCarter series. The play takes place in Vienna, 1900, where the not-yet-famous Dr. Sigmund Freud meets Dora, a brilliant young girl having trouble coming to terms with the adult world of sex and her own emergent nature.

Mr. Nigro has had his plays produced in many regional theaters all over the country. He has received grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Mary Roberts Rinehart Foundation, and the Ohio Arts Council, and has twice been a finalist for the National Repertory Theatre Foundation's National Play Award.

Mark Brown will be returning to McCarter to play the role of Dora's brother, Wolf, which he created at the reading last year. Mr. Brown has appeared in McCarter productions of Our Town, Little Murders, and A Christmas Carol. The role of Dr. Freud will be performed by Richard Council, who most recently appeared on Broadway in the long-running Tony Award-winning play I'm Not Rappaport.

Peggy Cowles will play Dora's mother. Ms. Cowles has many regional, as well as international, credits. She went to Japan to portray Blanche with staged reading of The Runner a production of A Streetcar Stumbles by Milan Stitt this Named Desire.

Leslie Brett Daniels performs as Marcy. Ms. Daniels has appeared Off-Broadway in Playboy of the Western World at the Roundabout Theatre. Creating the role of Dora is Kate Fuglei, who is returning from Arena Stage where she was Sonya in Yuri Lyubimov's Crime and Punishment.

Elizabeth Hess will play Frau Klippstein. Ms. Hess originated the role of Lisa in Nothing But Bukowski by John Ford Noonan at the Samuel Beckett Theatre. Richard Leighton is returning to McCarter, where he has appeared in such roles as the ducal brothers Frederick and Senior in As You Like It and Emperor Napoleon in Napoleon Nightdreams.

Ian Stuart will be creating the role of Dora's father. Mr. Stuart has just completed an engagement in Our Town at the Long Wharf Theatre, where he also appeared in the U.S. premiere of Tom Stoppard's Dalliance.

Preview performances of The Dark Sonnets of the Lady will be given on Wednesday and Thursday, March 9 and 10, with opening night on Friday, March 11. The play will continue through March 27. Ticket prices range from $17 to $25.

For reservations and further information, call the McCarter box office at 683-8000.

Series of Play Readings Set by the Arts Council

The Arts Council will sponsor a series of play readings at the Dora's mother. Ms. Cowles has many regional, as well as international, credits. She went to Japan to portray Blanche with staged reading of The Runner a production of A Streetcar Stumbles by Milan Stitt this Named Desire.

Friday at 8. The cast includes Harry Clark, Julie Clark, Cynthia Lake, Derry Light, Karl Light, Rip Pellaton and Henry Powsner. Discussion of the play will follow, with adjournment downstairs to the Cafe Improv. A donation will be requested.

Subsequent readings will feature area playwrights. Those interested in participating or having their plays read may call the Arts Council, 924-8777, or June Cawley, 921-2986.

Gay '90s Fundraiser For Passage Theatre

The Passage Theatre Company will hold a "Gay '90s" fund-raising benefit on Saturday, March 5, at 8. The event will include the performance of Passage Theatre's production of In This Fallen City by Bryan Williams and a Gay '90s party afterwards at the "In and Out Club" in Trenton.

Built in 1892 as one of Trenton's first "social clubs" and renovated in 1987 by historic preservationist Clifford Zink of Princeton, the "In and Out Club" will once again be transformed into a turn-of-the-century nightspot filled with food, music, dance and laughter. Period dress is encouraged but not essential.

The Gay '90s Gala will raise funds towards matching the $40,000 grant awarded to the Passage Theatre Company last August by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. Passage Theatre has raised more than half this amount and has met the $10,000 matching challenge grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation through its bridge party fund-raising event held on the "Trenton Makes" bridge last September.

More than 5,000 elementary school children are expected this year.

Voices Plans Concert This Sunday in Trenton

Voices, an ensemble of professional soloists, will present its first concert Sunday at 4. Music of Schubert, Mozart, Ives, Malcolm Peyton and P.D.Q. Bach will be presented in Trenton's Mill Hill Playhouse.

Voices is an ensemble of 14 professional musicians — 12 singers, a pianist, and a conductor. The ensemble specializes in 19th- and 20th-century vocal music — works of Brahms, Schubert, Debussy and other lyrical masters.

Featured soloists for the debut concert will be Anne Ackley of Princeton and William Riley of Lawrenceville. Both will perform arias by Mozart. Ms. Ackley will be joined by violinist Joseph Kovacs and pianist Kathleen Milly for "L'Amero, saro costante" from Mozart's early opera Il Re pastore. Ms. Ackley is a faculty member at Westminster Choir College and familiar to area audiences through her solo recitals and appearances with the New Jersey Symphony and June Opera Festival of New Jersey.

Mr. Riley, who teaches voice in New York City and in Lawrenceville, won the 1987 first prize in the eastern region National Association of Teachers of Singing artist awards, as well as the Merle Montgomery New York City Opera Award. This year he has been awarded a career development grant from the Brahmsgesellschaft in West Germany.

Four other soloists will perform works by Charles Ives. They are soprano Michelle Disco, a prize-winning interpreter of 20th-century song; Raul Mattei, a tenor with international performing experience; Daniel Shigo, baritone, a frequent oratorio and opera soloist in northern New Jersey; and Sandra Rains West, a mezzo-soprano who performs regularly as a professional with Rutgers Opera Theater.

Violinist Joseph Kovacs will join baritone Daniel Shigo and pianist Kathleen Milly for a performance of Sunrise. This extended song was written in 1926, but not published until 1976 and therefore has not had many performances.

Voices will also perform a new work by Malcolm Peyton, formerly of Princeton and currently head of the composition division of the New England Conservatory of Music. The work, entitled The Blessed Virgin Compared to the Air We Breathe, is a chant-like litany based on a poem by Gerard Manley Hopkins.

The concert will conclude with The Seasonings by P.D.Q. Bach, a spoof of late baroque oratorios. Following the concert, guests are invited to meet the performers and Mr. Peyton at a reception in the Mill Hill Playhouse. Tickets are $8, general admission, and $5 for students and senior citizens.

Tickets can be reserved through the Richardson Auditorium box office, 452-5000, Tuesdays through Fridays, 4 to 6:00.

Organ Department Head Sets Westminster Recital

Organist Joan Lippincott will perform a recital in Bristol Chapel at Westminster Choir College Sunday at 8.

The program will feature two French organ works — the Trois Danses of Jehan Alain and Symphonie V of Charles Marie Widor. It will also include the Piece d'Orgue by J.S. Bach and the Passacaglia by Georg Muffat, which will be played on the small Hildebrandt organ given to the Choir College by William H. Scheide and located in the rear gallery of the chapel.

Head of the Westminster organ department, Ms. Lippincott is an organ virtuoso who performs extensively in the United States and Europe.

Tickets for the recital, which is part of the Westminster Faculty Recital Series, are $5

Boychoir Plans Concert Of Spring Tour Program

The American Boychoir will perform highlights of its spring tour program in a concert Sunday, March 6, at 8 in Bristol Chapel on the Westminster Choir College campus.

Conducted by James Litton, the choir will perform works by Benjamin Britten, J.S. Bach, Johann Strauss, and Zoltan Kodaly, as well as other classical composers. The program will also include several songs and compositions by American composers Randall Thompson, Daniel Gawthrop and John Philip Sousa.

The American Boychoir is composed of students at the American Boychoir School in Princeton, the nation's only non-sectarian boarding boys' choir school. The choir regularly tours nationally and abroad. This year, three tours in the U.S. and Canada, and a tour of France are planned.

Tickets for the concert are $10. For reservations or information call 924-5858.

'Sound of Music' Next For Trenton Civic Opera

The Trenton Civic Opera Company will present The Sound of Music Sunday at 5 at the War Memorial Auditorium, Trenton, as the second offering of its 1987-88 season.

Mary Liz Ivins will be featured as Maria. The role of Captain Georg von Trapp will be portrayed by Robert Parrish, who played the role in the Trenton Civic Opera Company's 1981 performance.

Other featured performers include Deirdre Hindley as Mother Abbess, Warren Raymond as Max Detweiler and Marianna Cottrell as Else Schraeder. Sisters Margaretta, Berthe and Sophia will be

Pop Concert to Benefit Caribbean Culture Center

Jimmy Allington, a singer, songwriter and percussionist, will perform Saturday at 8 at the Third World Center, Prospect Street and Olden Avenue. There will be a $5 cover charge for the event, which is a benefit for the St. Vincent Cultural Center in the Caribbean.

Mr. Allington's music combines jazz-rock, funk and reggae. Initially a drummer, he made albums with keyboard artist Larry Young featuring Larry Coryell and Ray Gomez. Then he joined forces with jazz guitarist Stanley Jordan while Mr. Jordan was at Princeton University.

In the early 1980's Mr. Allington wrote and performed on several recordings with Nona Hendry of Trenton in a band which included members of the Talking Heads. After touring for a couple of years, he returned to this area and became percussionist for a group called Groceries. In 1986 he built his own demo recording studio.

The St. Vincent Cultural Center is proposed to be built on 15 acres of tropical mountainous land on the island of St. Vincent in the Caribbean. The island is approximately 90 miles from Barbados in the West Indies. The land was donated for the purpose of establishing a cultural center, a network of nature trails and an art camp for children and adults, as well as other projects.

The center is proposed not only to benefit underprivileged children but also to support and link visual and performing artists from this area and country to the Third World country of St. Vincent and the Grenadines. The focus would be on children, but the center would also offer special performances, entertainment and events to travelers visiting the Caribbean area.

The St. Vincent Cultural Center is seeking creative individuals interested in becoming involved with the center. It is also seeking individuals, businesses and corporations to assist with funds. For more information write the St. Vincent Cultural Center, PO Box 203, Princeton 08542.

Organ Concert Planned At Trinity Church Sunday

Trinity-All Saints' Concerts will present organist Joseph Schenk in a virtuoso program drawn largely from the 20th-century French tradition on Sunday at 8 at Trinity Church.

The program will include the Dutch romantic composer Julius Reubke's Sonata on the 94th Psalm. The French School will be represented by the Toccata of Jean Guillou, a pupil of Durufle and Messiaen, and Prelude and Fugue in G minor by Marcel Dupre.

The final portion of the program will feature improvisations on hymn tunes, after the custom of French church organists of this century.

8 and at a 3 p.m. matinee on June 19.

Patricia Woodbridge will design the sets, Jane Reisman will design the lighting, and Gregg Barnes and Kitty Leech, festival veterans, will design costumes for both operas.

The Ring of the Fettuccines is an hour-long operatic collage for children from five to 55. It was first performed in 1977 and has since become one of the ten most performed contemporary operas. Mieman and his associates have selected some of the most famous arias and music from Mozart, Verdi, Bizet, Offenbach and others and written a comedy starring six stereotypical characters who sing roles identified on their t-shirts.

The performance becomes a lighthearted crash course in opera history. Robert Pazur will conduct members of the company and a small ensemble for this production.

Tickets priced from $35 to $10 may be ordered by calling the box office at 737-7722, or by writing the June Opera Festival box office, 65 South Main Street, Pennington 08534. Discounts are available for subscribers, senior citizens and groups.

Doris Humphrey Tribute By Philadelphia Dancers

The Philadelphia Dance Theatre will present Mino Nicholas and Dancers in "A Tribute to Doris Humphrey," on Tuesday, March 8, at 8, in Richardson Auditorium.

The program will consist of rarely seen Humphrey works, including The Call and Breath of Fire, Banshee and Air for a Ground Bass. Many of the pieces to be performed have never been revived before. In addition to the Humphrey tribute, the concert will feature the world premiere of Lyriconus, choreographed by Mino Nicholas.

The Philadelphia Dance Theatre includes two Princeton-area residents as members of its company. They are Dawn D'Angelo, who will be featured in Air for a Ground Bass, and Mira Pospisil from Princeton Ballet, who will dance Humphrey's Two Ecstatic Themes.

All tickets are $5, and are available at the Richardson Auditorium box office after March 1. Call 452-5000. Visa and Mastercard are accepted. There is no reserved seating.

ART

Art Classes for Teens Highlight PAA Schedule

Princeton Art Association's spring classes will begin the week of March 13, and of the 37 classes on the schedule, two Saturday morning classes are for high school students. The ten-week semester includes other courses for younger children and also offerings for adults, such as classes in painting, print-making, sculpture, enamel, figure studies, pastel, portrait, pottery, water color, and art history. Registration by mail or in person is now open.

High school students can spend a whole day making art. In the morning, sculpture will be taught by Lilli Gettinger, a former instructor at the art school of the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

A new offering this semester is Monoprint, taught by Diana Gonzalez Gandolfi on Saturday afternoon. This special four-week course will allow students to create works without the investment in a full set of oils and brushes.

In addition to these offerings, the after-school program for high school students includes two drawing classes.

ON VIEW AT SEMINARY: A special exhibit of paintings by folk artist Maritza Morgan will open Friday in the Mackay Campus Center at Princeton Theological Seminary and be on view through March 4. There will be a reception for the artist from 6:30 to 8, followed by a reading of Robert Frost poems by William Brower.

For the younger set, Eva Kaplan will teach "Picture This," a mixed-media program introducing children ages six to 10 to painting, drawing, sculpture, collage, fiber art and photography. She will also teach Environmental Design, for ages nine to 14.

For a detailed class schedule and registration information, call the Association at 921-9173.

Exhibits

Folk artist Maritza Morgan will exhibit her paintings in a special show, "Stories on Wood" from Friday through March 4 at Princeton Theological Seminary. The public is invited to view the show.

Born in Yugoslavia, and now living and painting in Chataqua, N.Y., Ms. Morgan has exhibited her work in churches and galleries throughout the country. Her subjects come from Biblical texts, nature, literature and contemporary life, and she paints in oil and watercolor on wood.

The show will open with a reception for the artist on Friday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Mackay Campus Center on the Seminary Campus, to which the public is invited. Following the reception, William Brower of the Seminary faculty will present his poetry reading, "Poems by Robert Frost."

The exhibit hours for the remainder of the week are Saturday, 10 to 4 and 6:30 to 8; Sunday 1 to 4; and Monday through Friday 10 to 4 and 7 to 9.

A collection of bronze sculptures by Hopewell artist Andrea von Milbacher will be exhibited March 1 through April 14 at Educational Testing Service.

The sculptures, which Ms. von Milbacher describes as having an "alchemistic" theme, incorporate items found in natural environments by the artist. The exhibit will feature sculptures in the three- to four-foot range, most of which were created under a Johnson Fellowship Grant through the Johnson Atelier Technical Institute.

A reception for the artist will be held on Sunday, March 6, from 2 to 4 at the Henry Chauncey Conference Center. The public is invited.

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present an exhibit of color photographs by Merle Waterman during the month of March.

On display will be a variety of photographs including many of natural subjects and some special effects. Ms. Waterman has been active in New Jersey camera clubs for more than 10 years. She is currently a member of the Somerset County Photography Club, the Camera Naturalists, and the Hunterdon Camera Club, of which she is also past president.

This exhibit is free and open to the public. For further information, call the library at 924-7073.

Seven visual artists, all alumni of Mercer County Community College, will exhibit their work in the school's annual Alumni Exhibition. The show will run through March 12 in the college's Library Gallery on the West Windsor campus. The public is invited to an artists' reception on Friday from 6 to 8 p.m.

The alumni are Terri Corboy of Trenton; Marge Miccio of Trenton; David Biddle of Titusville; Sarah Brightbill Gherman of Princeton; Herb Ruhlin of Mercerville; Helen N. Post of Kendall Park; and Jim Gubernick, a student at Alfred University.

Large, colorful depictions of nature in acrylic polymer emulsion will introduce spring at Stuart Country Day School, when the works of Dallas Piotrowski go on display March 4 at the Norbert Considine Gallery.

Mrs. Piotrowski received honorable mention in a 1987 show of the American Artist Professional League, a Special Patron Award in the 1982 Phillips Mill Annual, and a 1981 Merit Award from the Mercer County Heritage Commission.

Her work is represented in the collections of American Fuji Seal, Atlantic County Government, Black Entertainment TV, Cartaret Savings, Princeton Bank, Trenton City Museum, and various private collectors.

An exhibition of acrylics, watercolors, and pastels by Leigh Fidler Wood will be at Tucker Anthony and R.L. Day, 100 Nassau Street, through the month of March.

The artist, who studied with both George Grosz and Ivan Olinsky, has participated in a number of exhibitions in the middle Atlantic states.

A reception will be held Friday, March 9, from 6 to 8 p.m.

A collection of flower and garden paintings by J. N. Betz will be on display in an exhibition entitled "Waterworks '88" at the Hopewell Frameshop/Gallery.

The show will open March 1 and continue through April 30.

An exhibition of work by students of the Princeton Art Association will be on display at the Association's studios on Stockton Street from February 29 through March 11. The exhibition will coincide with registration for the spring sessions, which starts March 13.

"Bleckner ★ Richter ★ Tansey," opening at Trenton State College's Holman Hall Art Gallery on Wednesday, March 2, will bring together the works of three internationally known contemporary painters. The show is the fifth annual exhibition at TSC of art from the collection of Robert M. Kaye. The opening reception will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on March 2.

"Ross Bleckner, Gerhard Richter and Mark Tansey each represent different directions in contemporary art," said Ann Tickner, curator of the Kaye collection. "In the past we have presented samplings of a number of contemporary artists. This show gives viewers a chance to see the works of three artists in more depth." The show will continue through March 25.

tion Office in New York City, retired to Hightstown. Mrs. Webb, a former opera singer who studied at Juilliard, has family roots in Hightstown.

Last year, she became seriously ill, and Mr. Webb took on an increasingly active role in helping with Bureau work. Although her health has improved, her husband still remains involved with the work of the Bureau.

About 150 complaints a year are reviewed by the Consumer Bureau panel of volunteers. Its ten members are Phyllis Marchand, Linda Eveleigh, Eleanor Flinner, Marion Janson, Bette Lapidus, Emery Marton, Alfrieda Miskiel, Ilona Olgyay, Jackie Rudolph, and Mary Ellen Tietjen.

At its recent monthly meeting at Prospect, the panel heard five cases. These include complaints about a bill for caulking; a store exchange policy; a car purchase; fur storage; and a telephone answering service.

"About 95 percent of complaints upheld by the panel are against firms not on the Bureau Register," said Mr. Boyd, "most against companies that have already been removed. At least half the cases are repeat offenders, and the other half come out of the woodwork; the first we hear about them is the complaint."

Currently, only about two or three businesses are removed from the Register each year, but about 35 firms are permanently barred, some because of the large number of complaints against them and others because of violations of safety.

Mrs. Marchand has been a panel member since 1972, and she finds it fascinating. "It has been helpful to me too. I've become an educated consumer, and I know what questions to ask and what documentation to get when I make a purchase."

There is one major lesson that Mr. Boyd has learned from the thousands of complaints that have come through his Bureau in the past 20 years. "What is needed in all these matters," he says, "is a sense of humor."

A "FLOWERSCAPE" PAINTING, by J.N. Betz, will be at the Hopewell Frameshop/Gallery from March 1 through April 30. It is part of an exhibition of the artist's garden and flower paintings.

Tiger Hockey Team Can Reach Playoffs With One Win, But Two over Weak Yale, Brown Teams Would Be Better

The final weekend of the regular season is ahead for the Princeton hockey team (9-10-1 ECAC, 10-13-1 overall), and if they don't blow it, the Tigers will make the post-season playoffs for only the second time in the last 19 years. It's no small achievement for the southernmost hockey team on the eastern seaboard.

The hoped-for victory over Clarkson didn't come Friday night, the Orange and Black having to settle instead for a 1-1 tie. Saturday, St. Lawrence demonstrated conclusively why it has replaced Harvard at the top of the ECAC standings, winning, 6-2, in Baker Rink. The Crimson surprisingly was beaten twice at home by Vermont and RPI, and may be vulnerable to an upset in the playoffs.

Gaining just one point in the two contests, Princeton fell two places behind Clarkson, which beat Army, into seventh place. It is one point ahead of RPI, and just two ahead of pesky Dartmouth, hanging tough, in ninth. Coach Jim Higgins' team ter post-season play in convincing fashion.

THIRD PERIOD THRUST THWARTED: Bart Bleaser's determined effort to score was halted by Clarkson's John Fletcher, enabling the visitors to escape with a 1-1 tie. Fletcher stopped 54 of 55 shots by the Tigers. At the other end of the ice, Mark Salisbury turned in another good game, and was ranked third among all ECAC goaltenders prior to Saturday's 6-2 loss to St. Lawrence.

If Old Nassau can muster just one victory, chances are that it will be sufficient, because Dartmouth must also play on the road against St. Lawrence and Clarkson, and the Big Green does not figure to beat the hot Saints on their own ice. (If Princeton and Dartmouth end in a tie, the Tigers will advance, because they beat the Big Green twice). RPI will be at home against Cornell and Colgate, and could finish ahead of Princeton if it wins both, but that also seems unlikely. Both those teams are fighting for home ice advantage, along with Vermont.

For those who like to look ahead, assuming Princeton makes the playoffs, it will probably play either Harvard or St. Lawrence (less probably Cornell) on the road for two games Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5.

The Saints March On. Princeton should make every effort to hold on to seventh place so it won't have to face St.

Lawrence again. The Saints have now won nine consecutive league contests, and look to make it 11 this weekend. The Tigers were outclassed from the opening face-off Saturday night.

The game began with the puck in Princeton's end so much it looked like the visitors had a man advantage. Helped by some stalwart goaltending by Mark Salisbury, the game stayed scoreless for half the first period. Then the home team made the mistake of giving the Saints two power plays.

Fourth line center Mike Cole was whistled for both infractions, and St. Lawrence scored each time. The second goal is not officially recorded as a power-play tally, because Cole had left the penalty box, but he had not gotten into the action when the goal was scored. Princeton wasted a 1:32 two-man advantage at the end of the first period, and the first minute of the second

The visitors took their 2-0 lead into the second period, and the lone highlight for Princeton came at 6:52 of that frame.

Chris Hughes took the puck at center ice and skated down the right side, curved past a St. Lawrence defenseman and jammed the puck in the net.

That gave momentary hope to the 2,152 in attendance, but for less than two minutes. The visitors scored three unanswered goals, the first coming at 7:58, and the last when Princeton stupidly gave the winners a two-man advantage at 15:03.

The 5-1 lead was enough to send a good chunk of the crowd home after two periods, and those who stayed must have been sorry they did. They saw one of the worst periods of hockey in Baker Rink this winter. It's a pity it closed out the home season.

could finish as high as sixth, or, God forbid, drop out of the playoff picture entirely.

In Princeton's favor, it will be matched against two of the weakest teams in the ECAC, Brown and Yale, both of whom were walloped by Cornell and Colgate last weekend. However, it must meet both on the road.

Although the Orange and Black defeated both here in January, it can take nothing for granted in either contest. A year ago, Brown beat Princeton in Baker Rink in the battle for the eighth playoff spot. Still, this is a good opportunity for the Tigers to win twice, and en-

Princeton, had already been called in this chippy contest, and 10 more were added in the third period. Each team got a goal, but with the outcome no longer in doubt, scoring was secondary to an endless stream of uncalled-for infractions.

Kelly Szauner got Princeton's goal, assisted by Bart Blaener and John Messuri, as Princeton finally managed to score on a five-on-three advantage. With the assist, Messuri moved ahead of John McBride '60 into second place on the all-time scoring list with 118 points. He is still 14 behind John Cook, '63.

Fletcher Was Fabulous. Every so often in the third period the fans seated directly behind Clarkson's goalie John Fletcher chanted his name in derisive fashion, trying to unnerve the sophomore goalie. At the end of the game they should have shouted it in praise.

Fletcher's .897 save percentage and 3.51 goals-against average put him in the middle of the pack of ECAC Division I goalies, but through 70 minutes of play Friday night he was tops. The Tigers' offense produced its greatest number of shots this year, 55, and he turned away all but one. Several times late in the third period and the 10-minute overtime that followed, Fletcher was the target of a flurry of shots, and concerted action in front of his net. On every occasion, he was equal to the challenge.

The Tigers outshot the visitors 16 to one in the overtime, but could not come up with the winning tally. Clarkson played the last 1:23 down a man, because of a penalty for too many men on the ice, but managed to survive a blitz by the Princeton attack.

Salisbury had far less action at his end, stopping 18 of 19 shots, but among those were a couple of outstanding saves. He came up with big stops twice in the second period, once stopping a breakaway, and minutes later turning away another shot from close range when a Clarkson attacker was given free reign with the puck.

The tone of the evening was set in the first period when Princeton outshot the Golden Knights 12 to four. The second was more equal with the Orange and Black holding a 12 to nine edge. Ironically the only goals of the contest were scored just 39 seconds apart in the second period.

Fletcher was beaten for the only time all evening when Messuri's hard shot from the left side rebounded toward Chris Hughes, who slapped the puck in from the right at 15:16. Princeton had survived a couple of defensive lapses earlier, thanks to Salisbury's quick reactions, but Mike Morrison brought the visitors even quickly. His hard shot from 15 feet out in the slot squeezed between Salisbury's pads and trickled into the net.

Only five penalties, two against Princeton, were called in the game, and neither team could capitalize on its opportunities. The Tigers set up well each time, but most of their shots were from long range, and Fletcher was seeing everything that came his way.

Anybody Still Think Tigers Will Win Basketball Title?

Take heart Princeton basketball fans, and ignore those three consecutive one-point losses, the latest two, 61-60, at Yale. Friday, and 68-67 at Brown, Saturday. There is still time for the Princeton basketball team to make its move.

Rubbish, you say. Cornell is 9-1 and Princeton is 5-4, with only four or five games left on the schedule. The Orange and Black is dead and hurried for this season.

But, wait a minute; your math is off. There is still room for the Tigers to pull out the Ivy title. The Big Red obligingly loses its last four, and the Tigers win their last five to cop the title, beating Harvard, Dartmouth, Penn, Columbia and Cornell, along the way.

The win streak can start on the final road trip of the season in Cambridge and Hanover this Friday and Saturday night. After all, Pete Carril's boys have been just one basket away each time from winning those three games. And everyone knows that Cornell always folds in the stretch in Ivy basketball. The Big Red hasn't won a title in 34 years.

Now, anyone who believes that rosy scenario should be sentenced to watch the game films of those one-point losses over and over, until they realize the fatal flaw that ails this Tiger team. More often than not, it gives up leads in the second half, and then gives up the game in the final minute.

Carril has been generous in his praise of this quintet, but it has not lived up to the standard of the good Carril teams of the past. It's letting the close ones get away in a fashion that leaves one wondering where the Tigers' heads are in the final seconds.

Substitute Matt Lapin is left to take the final shot against Harvard, after just coming in cold off the bench. Friday night, Bob Serabis is called for charging against Yale, turning the ball over to the Elis. Carril instructs his players not to let Paul Maley get the ball or shoot. He does both with six seconds left and sinks the winning basket. The manner in which Brown wins is one for the books, or better yet those monthly television tape re-runs of incredible moments in sports.

These three losses are to three teams, none of which has managed a winning record in Ivy play or overall. The Bruins' victory was their first in nine games in the league and their fifth in 21 contests overall.

Except for the ending, the debacle at Providence was almost an exact re-run of the tragedy at New Haven the previous night. Princeton jumped off to an early 9-0 lead, but could not hold on, allowing the Bruins to surge in front, 35-29, late in the first half. The home team led by two at the half, 37-35.

The Tigers got back in front after the intermission, and led 60-50 at one point. Most of the points were coming from Serabis, who hit for 25 for the second night in a row — another superlative effort by the junior forward, the only player on the team who has been able to score consistently.

But this wasn't enough. As time began to run out, Brown closed the gap to one point, 66-65, and then fouled John Thompson with less than a minute remaining. JT had not missed a foul shot all year, but a broken finger on his shooting hand may have played a part in his missing one of two.

Still, the Tigers looked to have the contest wrapped up after Marcus Thompson came down the floor and missed a baseline jumper. The ball went out of bounds off Brown, and Princeton had a two-point, 67-65, lead, with two seconds on the clock. The Tigers called time out to make sure they wouldn't let this one get away.

When play resumed, Thompson threw a long pass toward midcourt. In one motion Anthony Katsaros intercepted the ball and shoveled it off to a reserve player, Chris Dowling. Never mind that Dowling was averaging fewer than two points a game, and was just one for three on three-point attempts; this one, launched as the buzzer went off, was perfect.

The Orange and Black has lost eight times in 21 games this season; the largest margin of defeat was five, coming at Ithaca. In addition to four one-point losses (the first came in Jadwin in December when a LaSalle player threw up a desperation three-pointer at the buzzer), the other defeats have been by two, three and four points to Davidson, Connecticut and Utah. If this team had the ability to win the close ones and a little luck, it could be 21-0.

Maley Makes It Up. Yale's Paul Maley had something to prove Friday night when Princeton came to town, and he did it in a big way. The senior forward, second only to Dartmouth's Jim Barton in league scoring, with a 21-point average, felt a large degree of responsibility for the Elis' loss to the Tigers in Jadwin two weeks earlier.

Maley hit for 21 points that night, 15 coming in the first half when the Bulldogs surged to a 32-18 advantage. But in the final 20 minutes when Princeton caught and passed Yale on the way to a 52-46 triumph, Maley could manage just six, as an improved Tiger defense denied him the ball.

In New Haven, he turned the tables on Princeton, leading a second-half comeback that wiped out a 32-22 halftime deficit. Maley contributed more than half his team's points, 34, on fantastic 14 of 19 shooting from the field. No other Yale player scored in double figures.

Led by some fancy three-point shooting by Tim Neff and Bob Scrabis, Princeton jumped in front 10-1, and seemed confidently on their way to this must win. The Tigers shot 71 percent in the first half and 60 percent overall, good enough to win most ball games, but Yale almost matched that, sinking 58 percent of its shots. And the Elis enjoyed a 20-14 edge in rebounds that helped make the difference.

The Tigers still led by 10, 43-33, with 11 minutes to go, but that advantage slowly began to disappear, until Yale took its first lead of the evening, 53-52. Princeton scored the next five for a 57-53 lead, only to watch the home team's Peter White get them back on one play, when he was fouled as he connected on a three-point shot. His free throw tied it at 57 apiece.

Bob Scrabis, Princeton's main man with a career-high 25 on nine of 12 shooting, hit his last three-pointer for a 60-57 lead. Maley got two back with 57 seconds left when he was fouled by Dave Orlandini and hit both to bring Yale within one.

Princeton might have been able to run out the clock but Scrabis was called for a charging foul with 33 seconds left, giving the Bulldogs a final chance. After a timeout with 11 seconds, during which time Carril told his players not to let Maley get the ball, and if he did, not to let him shoot, Yale put the ball in play. Maley got free in the lane, took a pass, and swished a six-footer with three seconds left for the victory.

Tim Neff had 15 points on five three-pointers, Mueller contributed 12, but nobody could figure out how to stop Maley on defense, the way they had in the first game.

"Our defense just let us down in the second half," moaned Carril. That may be so, but credit Maley with having learned a few things from that loss in Jadwin. After all, he is a Yale man.

PDS Girls' Hockey Wins First, Beating Stuart, 8-0

At one point it looked like the Princeton Day girls' hockey team might go through the season without a victory, but all that changed Friday afternoon. The Panthers, who had lost to Stuart Country Day in their first game of the season, turned the tables on their neighbors, with an 8-0 victory. They were led by Elisa DeRochi with four goals, Laura Heins with two goals and two assists, and Liz Bylin who tallied one goal and had two assists.

That gave PDS its first win against seven losses and one tie. The season ended Tuesday with a game scheduled to be played against a University of Pennsylvania club team.

PDS indicated early on that the rematch against Stuart would be different. Heins tallied twice in the first period, the second time on a breakaway for a 2-0 lead. DeRochi made it 3-0 before the period ended, when she knocked in a rebound of a shot by Bylin.

Jenny Thompson made it 4-0, assisted by Jenny Myers with 9:41 remaining in the second period. Nineteen seconds later DeRochi notched her second goal, and she closed out the scoring in the second with a third goal, with 5:03 remaining. Heins and Bylin picked up assists.

PDS kept up the pressure in the third, with Bylin scoring, assisted by Heins, and DeRochi completing the rout with a breakaway for her fourth goal with just 36 seconds remaining.

Goalie Casey Sheldon smothered all Stuart attempts to score.

Sheldon played an even better game two days earlier when the Panthers lost to Lawrenceville, 3-0, in a well-played game by both sides. The score would have been much higher had not the junior goalie made several excellent saves.

Suzy Dwyer opened the scoring for Lawrenceville with a superb shot in the upper right-hand corner of the net in the first period. The second period was scoreless, but Lawrenceville added insurance goals by Susan Marshak and Renee Rybinski in the third period.

The 7-11 Panthers split four games last week. They started with a loss to Dwight-Englewood Tuesday, and defeated Montclair-Kimberley, 57-24, Wednesday, in regular season contests. Friday, PDS defeated Newark Academy for the second time in an outbracket game of the Prep B Tournament, but 24 hours later the Blue and White was bounced out of the tournament, 99-50, by Rutgers Prep.

The Argonauts, who are favored to win the event this year, raised their record to 24-3 with the triumph. One of those victories came against PDS in December, 76-39.

Coach Mike Herr's players made a contest out of it for one period, trailing by only a point, 15-14, at the end of the first quarter. But the host team went on a 29-point tear in the second period to lead 44-25 at the half. Chris Jones led PDS with 12 points.

The previous afternoon, PDS came on strongly in the second half against Newark. It led 15-7 at the end of the first period, but let the visitors close the deficit to 23-20 at the half. The Panthers enjoyed a good third period, outscoring their opponent by 14 points. Brian Cribb had 22, Jones, 18, and Paul Goldman, 15.

Cribb had another 22-point effort in the Montclair victory. PDS was in control all the way, outscoring the visitors in every period. Jones finished with 15, Goldman contributed 11.

PDS Girls End Season In Basketball at 3-12

In terms of games won and lost, this was not a good season for the Princeton Day girls' basketball team, which won just three times in 15 games, beating Stuart twice, and Villa Victoria once.

But the tough lessons learned this winter may pay dividends next season, and everybody on this young team will return to put that knowledge to good use. Juniors Kate Leone, Jane Heap, Dede Greisinger and Angela Travers will be back, along with sophomores Edith Roberts, Sara-Jane Matelson, Julie Howard, Timory Howe and Andrea Begel. Under the guidance of coach Cheryl Silva, the Panthers should make a much stronger showing.

This year ended in a hurried, disappointing fashion when PDS had to travel to Kent Place last Wednesday, a day or two earlier than expected, to play Kent Place in an outbracket game of the Prep Tournament. KP had won an earlier game at PDS, and had little trouble rolling to a 47-31 triumph in this one. The home team led, 16-9, at the end of the first quarter, and 30-14 at the half. Howe led PDS with 15 points, Leone had 11.

Heap was the leading scorer with 14 points in the team's win over Villa Victoria earlier in the month. Howe added 11, and Begel, Leone and Howard, contributed six apiece.

Tignor Is Terrific; Wins State Title

The past few days have been filled with achievement — memorable achievement — by Princeton High senior Sandra Tignor.

On Tuesday, running in the 20th annual NJSIAA Meet of Champions — pitting the best runners from all schools — Tignor won the 3200-meter race with a personal best and an all-time Mercer County record of 10:58.72. Tignor came in a whopping 21 seconds ahead of second-place Chris Baldes of Manalapan.

Her previous best had been 11:02, which she set in last year's outdoor Meet of Champions. A year ago, in the same indoor Meet of Champions, Tignor had finished fifth in 11:33.2.

In breaking the 11-minute barrier for the first time Monday, Tignor was ninth after the first lap, but took the lead with eight laps to go. At the finish line, she had lapped 12 of the 19 runners in the race.

PHS hurdler Wagner Marseille, who had advanced to the boys' Meet of Champions with his first-place finish in the 55-meter hurdles at Lawrenceville with a 7.5 clocking, did not fare as well as Tignor.

He failed to reach the final heat when he hit four hurdles in the semi-finals to finish fourth with a disappointing time of 7.7. Marseille had run a 7.5 to place second in his trial race.

Tignor had qualified for Monday's Meet of Champions at Jadwin Gym on the University campus by winning both the 3200 and 1600 races in Saturday's Mercer County girls' championships held at the Lawrenceville School track. Her time on Saturday for the 3200 was 12:14.9 and 5:24.8 for the 1600. Two weeks ago, she won two Group II State titles, again capturing the 1600 and 3200.

At the County Meet, Tignor's two firsts helped PHS finish second in the team standings behind Trenton with 67 points. The Tornadoes were on top with 89.

Taking seconds for PHS were Candace Killmer in the 400 and Kesti Ringland in the 55-meter dash. PHS also finished second in the 4 x 400 relay.

In the boys' competition, PHS finished fourth in the team standings with 36 points, trailing Lawrenceville (67), Trenton (48), and Steinert (38).

Princeton's John Rogerson was second in the 1600 and third in the 800. Rian Bogle of PHS took a third in the 3200.

But it was the Lawrenceville game, which ended PDS's home season a week ago Tuesday, that the PDS girls and their coach will remember most. The Larries, who won their eighth game in 18 starts, dominated from the opening whistle, and led 11-2 at the end of the first period. Led by the scoring of Annie Hannum, who pumped in 25 points, the Big Red extended the margin to 27-8 at the half. The third quarter was even more disastrous for PDS, which was outscored 18-4.

With the score at 45-12, and the game out of reach, Silva put in her substitutes, including a few girls from the jayvee team to give them a taste of varsity action. The result was a 27-point fourth quarter by the Larries that led to an embarrassing final score of 72-18. Silva was upset with Lawrenceville's aggressive play and lack of substitutions in the final period.

"I knew what the score was at the end of the third quarter, but I was shocked by the final outcome. In looking at the scorebook afterwards, I saw four of Lawrenceville's five starters scored during the final period. If I get beaten that badly by someone's substitutes there is nothing that could have been done, but when the starters are left in that's really hard on my kids."

"Lawrenceville scored a lot of points by continuing to press in the final period. They would steal our inbounds pass, and get an easy lay-up. Unfortunate incidents like this have helped me develop a much different coaching philosophy."

PDS Hockey Splits Pair; Tournament Coming Up

A loss to Montclair-Kimberley Saturday night followed by a victory over Hightstown on Tuesday gave the Princeton Day hockey team a split last week. The Panthers' record is 6-9-1, pending the outcome of a contest scheduled to be played this past Tuesday against Academy of New Church.

Coach Bill Minter's team has a chance to hit the .500 mark square on the nose if it can repeat its December victory against ANC, and capture both its tournament games this weekend.

The annual PDS tournament, set for Friday and Saturday will include Brunswick, Williston-Northampton and defending champion, St. Mary's School. Brunswick and St. Mary's will play at 3 p.m. Friday; PDS and Williston-Northampton will square off at 5. The winners and losers will meet in championship and consolation rounds beginning Saturday at 11.

The PDS-Montclair game decided the Prep B championship last Saturday. In a rough, hard-hitting game, the home team scored a goal in each period for a 3-0 victory. The officials chose to call few penalties, which led to hard feelings on both sides, among both the players and the fans. Police were called and the PDS team was given a police escort out of the rink after the game ended.

Things were a little quieter on Monday as PDS defeated Hightstown for the second time this season, 6-2. Goals were scored by Jeff Zawadzky, Britt Eaton, Hardy Royal, Jamie Knill and Andy Dykstra.

Final Game Thursday For Little Tiger Five

The end of a long season will come Thursday evening for the Princeton High basketball team.

The Little Tigers' finale will be against top-ranked McCristin at the Iron Mike gym with a 7:30 tap-off. PHS was scheduled to play its final home game against Montgomery earlier in the week.

Last week, the Little Tigers played out their string, losing to Ewing by 30 points, to Lawrence by 14 in two Valley Division contests and defeating Hun by six on Saturday. The Hun victory left the Blue and White with a 7-16 record.

Against Hun, PHS got 25 points from its leading scorer, Darius Young and 10 from Jay Jackson en route to a 69-63 victory. It took command of a tight game in the third period when it outscored the visiting Raiders, 19-11.

Against Lawrence, which is headed for State competition, John Thompson poured in 21 points, Young added 18 and Anthony White 12 but it wasn't enough to overcome the Cardinals who were playing with Chuck McKay, one of the County's leading scorers. McKay had been benched for one game by coach Bob Graham for disciplinary reasons.

The Cardinals (16-4) sputtered in the first half but put the Little Tigers away in the second half when they outscored the Blue and White 48 to 27. Derrick Seay was high for Lawrence with 23 points and he received support from teammates Gary Kane and Todd Robinson who combined for 25 more. Thompson included a pair of three-pointers in his 21 points.

Ewing took a 10-point lead over PHS in the first period and widened that to 17 by half time to coast past PHS for its 15th win in 20 starts.

Young with 18 points — he is third among the scoring leaders in the CVC — and Thompson with 12 combined for 30 of Princeton's 46 points. Ewing's Scott Nance led all scorers with 20.

PHS Heads for Districts At HC High in Flemington

Tiger to the Region 5 competition is a formidable one.

PHS coach Matt Wilkinson reports that he will take a full squad to Flemington with the exception of the 103-pound class where freshman Jeff Maguire has quit the team. "Right now, I think Alex Fox will be the magical one for us," predicted Wilkinson. "He's been looking real good." A junior, Fox was a runner up in the Mercer County Tournament last week in the 112-pound class.

Princeton's standout all year, Peer Soderberg, who was unbeaten until he lost in the championship round of the Mercer County tournament, was upset last week in his last dual meet. "With Soderberg losing like that, it will be difficult for him to get a good seed," said Wilkinson. "It would be nice to have at least one reach the regionals."

Seedings for the Districts were expected to be released early in the week. Preliminary matches will be held Friday night, with the semis and finals on Saturday. Once again, Hunterdon Central, North Hunterdon and Voorhees are expected to dominate the event.

In its final dual meet, aided by six forfeits, PHS routed South Hunterdon, 60-12. Of the six matches that were held, PHS won four and lost two. Earlier in the week, PHS was defeated, 40-21, by Lawrenceville School.

PHS ended with what Wilkinson described as a "not so respectable, but not too bad, 7-9. We had hoped to reach .500."

There were a couple of surprises in the truncated match with visiting South Hunterdon. Foremost was Soderberg losing an 8-5 decision to a wrestler, Wilkinson said, who was just over .500.

"It was a combination of things, but basically, he just didn't go out and wrestle well," reported Wilkinson, who agreed that Soderberg may have been suffering a letdown from his only loss the week before.

Others who won for PHS included Anthony Cucchi (pin) Robert Perle and Dan Knoepfmacher. The second surprise, said Wilkinson, was the performance of sophomore heavyweight Bill Dickerson. In pinning his opponent, Dickerson "looked tremendous, the best on the whole team," said Wilkinson.

"He made some moves you usually don't see by heavyweights. He had a beautiful arm drag for a takedown and a pancake, which is not a heavyweight move." At 255, Dickerson is only 20 pounds below the limit of 275, "so we'll have to keep our eyes on him," said Wilkinson.

Partly My Fault. Earlier, PHS was outclassed by Lawrenceville, 40-21, but Wilkinson reported the outcome was partly his fault. "I over-scheduled," he explained. "The State allows only 22 matches and some of our guys already had that many, so I couldn't field a full team."

"But Tom (former PHS coach Tom Murray, now the Larry coach) always puts out a good team."

PHS got a pin from Bret Hoebel at 4:59, a technical fall from Soderberg at 160 (22-7) and decisions from Jim Greer at 119, and Alfie Zullo at 152. Cucchi battled to a 6-6 draw in his 145-pound match.

Lawrenceville's Mike Lee, who defeated Fox in the County finals, defeated him again, working Fox over for a 10-3 decision.

PHS Girls Eliminated At NJSIAA Swim Meet

The Princeton High girls' swim team was eliminated in the first round of the NJSIAA 'B' State dual meet championships last week by undefeated Watchung Hills, 121-49.

In the meet, held at the Watchung High pool, the host team won every event to make PHS its 51st victim in a row — a streak that began in 1982. Taking seconds for the Little Tigers were Rebecca Jones in diving, Heather Tamm in the 100 free, Suzanne Maman in the 200 free, Amanda Schivell in the 100 fly, Danielle Devereux in the 500 free and Susan Crystal in the 100 breast.

PHS Girls Lose, 91-77, To Steinert in Swimming

Going with some of its younger swimmers, the Princeton High girls' swimming team dropped its final dual meet of the season last week to Steinert High, 91-77.

Rebecca Jones and Liz

Medina finished 1-2 in diving, while Danielle Devereux won the 200 IM and 500 free for the Little Tigers. Princeton's Amanda Schivell won the 100 fly, followed by teammate Jennifer Robinson.

Freshmen Kate Darnton, Gladys Happer, Robinson and Devereux combined to capture the 400 free relay in 4:16.8 for PHS, but Steinert won the 200 medley relay.

The Spartans also won the 50 free, 100 free, 100 back and 100 breast.

February Is Long Month For Hun School Quintet

T.S. Eliot may have labeled April the cruellest month in "The Wasteland" but for Hun basketball coach Kevin Long, it's February. No contest.

Six games into the second month and the Raiders are still looking for their first win. They lost three more times last week to Hopewell, to Peddie in the Prep NJISAA Class A State tournament opener, and to town rival Princeton High. The number of wins this season still stands at five and counting.

"When I looked at the schedule I knew February was going to be a tough month," said Long. "I was hoping we would be able to squeeze out one or two wins — and we have played well against Solebury, Hopewell and Princeton — but not well enough to win. It's made February a long month."

Hun (5-15) was scheduled to end its season this week against Steinert.

Hun began the week with a 68-59 loss to Hopewell Valley in Pennington, the victim of Chris Conefry's 32-point career high. With the win, the Bulldogs reached .500 (11-11) for the first time since 1980 under second-year coach Jim Byrnes.

Hun played well, trailed by two at half time and for one of the few times this season had four players in double figures — 18 by Dehkonte Monyokaye, 12 by Rafael Garcia and 11 each from Tony Camisa and Tony Ammirata. But it fell behind for keeps in the third period when the Bulldogs outscored the Raiders, 25-14.

Against Peddie in the State tournament, Hun was facing one of the finest Falcon teams in years, winner of 19 of 21 games and a finalist in the Mercer County Tournament. "We tried to slow the pace of the game down a little bit," recalled Long, "and we were successful for a while but they finally caught up to us in the third quarter."

Hun matched Peddie's 13 points in the first period and trailed by nine at half time. In the third period, Peddie blew the game open with a 23-9 margin, paced by Jerome Hipps' 20 points. Garcia with 13 was the only Hun player to reach double figures.

Again, against Princeton High on Saturday, Hun, said Long, "played well that day. Well enough to win. But in a few, key, critical situations we didn't play as well as we should have. We've been losing so long (seven in a row) that the players get the feeling they can't win."

Monyoukaye was the top offensive gun for Hun, netting 24 points, one below his season's high. Pat Murphy and Garcia combined for 20 more Hun points. Once again, the decisive period for the Raiders was the third, when the Little Tigers outscored them, 19-11, to open up a 10-point lead.

Hun Five Loses Again To Steinert on Monday

Few teams can overcome an 18-1 deficit and struggling Hun was no exception Monday against visiting Steinert.

The Spartans, after jumping off to that big lead, finished with a 64-41 victory, as Hun coach Kevin Long used every player on his roster in Hun's final game of the season.

Senior guard Dehkonte Monyoukaye, Hun's most consistent scorer throughout the season, was high for Hun with 16 points. Steinert (14-7) was led by Joe Gmitter, who netted 19 points. With the loss, Hun failed to win a single game in February and ended the season with five wins.

Blair Takes First Place In Mat Tournney at Hun

As expected, Blair Academy won the team championship in the NJISAA state wrestling tournament held Saturday in the Hun School gym.

Peddie produced five individual champions but still trailed far behind Blair in the standings, 233 to 189. Hun finished tenth among the dozen competing schools with 40 points.

Josh Waxman was the only Hun wrestler to reach the finals round, where he lost a 20-9 decision in the 152-pound division. Peddie's Eric Fajerman became a three-time prep school champion when he blanked Blair's Spencer Speer to win the 125-pound title. Lawrenceville School was third in the standings with 176 points and Pennington School finished fifth with 77.5.

The top prep school wrestlers will compete next week at the Prep School nationals.

Division Title at Stake Here for CJ Hockey Club

In its final regular season game, the Princeton-based Central Jersey Hockey Club can nail down its second straight Commuter League southern division title — if it can defeat Princeton Hockey Club for the second time.

A 7-3 victor over Princeton last week at the Princeton Day School rink, Central Jersey (7-1-1) will end its season against the same club on Saturday at 6:45 at Baker Rink on the Princeton University campus.

A win will seal the title for CJ over runner-up Beacon Hill Hockey Club, which has a 7-2 record — both losses coming at the hands of Central Jersey.

Against rival Princeton Hockey Club last week, Central Jersey scored five unanswered goals in the second half to break open a 2-2 deadlock. Accounting for the string were Steve Cook, Coley Donaldson, John Cook, Larry Sanford and Jim Trowbridge. Goalie Eric Monbert had 18 saves.

Princeton had taken the lead on a Jerry Thomas goal but lost it to CJ when Steve Cook scored twice. A goal by Pete Kerney of PHC tied it at halftime. Kerney also scored the losers' only goal in the second half.

Paddle Tourney Tuesday At Pretty Brook Club

The women's third annual Princeton Area Paddle Jambies, sponsored by the Pretty Brook Club and the Princeton Recreation Department, will be held Tuesday, March 1, at Pretty Brook for interested players in the area. Players of all levels of ability are encouraged to participate.

A fee of $11, which includes lunch and a clinic, must accompany an application. Forms are available at the Recreation Office, Pretty Brook and the Community Park Courts. For further information, call Salley Skey at 924-1506, Margie Fisher at 924-8844 or Marge Smith at 924-8652.

Winners to Be Honored By Carnegie Sail Club

Trophy winners for the 1987 season will be honored by the Carnegie Sailing Club during its annual meeting and pot luck supper on March 19.

Laser fleet winners are Knud Christiansen, first place; Peter Grosz, second place, and Dick Jesser, third place. Sunfish winners are Walt Gibson, first place, Bernie Breitbart, second, and Dan Mazzarella, third.

The Walt Jefferson Memorial Trophy will be presented to Ken Brown, the Inter Fleet Trophy to Breitbart and the Sunfish Daggerboard Trophy to Gibson.

Laser and sunfish racing in the spring will resume April 3 on Lake Carnegie. The club invites all interested sailors to attend its annual meeting and supper when the evening's events will include, in addition to the awarding of trophies, election of 1988 officers, a discussion of the spring racing season and a film on sailing.

For further information, call Commodore Walt Gibson at 921-8976 or Bernie Breitbart at 921-0339.
